

NEW ALLIED NOTE TO TURKS CARRIES THREAT

HIGHER TAXES TO BE AIM OF LEGISLATURE

Incomes in State Will Be Hit If Two Proposed Bills Will Go Through

By Associated Press
Madison—The election out of the way, politicians are turning their attention to the legislature which convenes here Jan. 10, 1923 for its regular biennial session. Enactment of a legislative program of widespread consequence to the people of the state is expected to result from the coming meeting.

Predictions of a short session in 1923 are not borne out by experience of past legislatures, and with several important fights already developing the probabilities are that Wisconsin's 1923 legislature will do as its predecessors have done—hold a six months' session.

NEW MEN SWEEP IN
The assembly will be made up almost entirely of new members. Conservatives who held a majority in the 1921 session were swept out of power with new and inexperienced assemblymen taking their places. This means that the organization is going to be slow in getting under way.

Control of the state senate is also going to change hands. Here again a large share of the members will be having their first experience in the legislature. In both of the houses the organization will rest with administration men, making it probable that John L. Dahl, Barron-co, will be chosen speaker of the assembly and that Herman J. Severson of Iowa, will head the joint finance committee of the senate and assembly.

WILL DOOM TAXES
Senator Severson in the senate and John Dahl in the assembly have bills for introduction in the coming session that are going to affect individuals and industry of the state. They propose to raise an increased proportion of taxes from incomes.

Senator Severson's proposal calls for a surtax on incomes, over $5,000, the revenue of which will go largely to support the university, normal schools and common schools, with a corresponding reduction in the mill taxes for these purposes. The tax rates in his bill call for a graduated tax on incomes ranging from one per cent on earnings of $5,000 or over to 6 per cent on all incomes of 12 per cent or over.

Assemblyman Dahl's bill calls for removal of the personal property tax offset to the income tax law, for an increase in income tax rates, for removal of the secrecy clause to the income tax, and for an increase of exemptions.

Other tax bills, including the Grimsstad bill calling for a graduated tax on land based on its value, will be introduced by members and stand a good chance of passage should the legislature follow the lines it laid out in the last session when the anti-administration forces were in control.

WETS IN CONTROL
The general election has, according to wet legislators, made rather imminent a referendum on light wines and beer in Wisconsin. The anti-prohibition forces are in control of both houses, judging from returns, although the change in view of one senator would alter this situation.

Among other important measures to be introduced is that of Senator Huber calling for unemployment insurance. This proposal will be passed if it receives the support of socialists and administration men.

Farmers will have control of the legislature and legislation affecting their interests is expected to take up a large place on the legislature's calendar.

Expect Milwaukee Teachers Will Quit State Association

Faction Loses Fight Against Seating Representatives Of Smaller Locals Then Withdraws From Proceedings

Milwaukee—Withdrawal of Milwaukee teachers from the Wisconsin Teachers' association is expected Friday following a heated contest that occurred in the delegate assembly of the state association at its first session.

Led by D. H. Schuyler, Joanna Hannan and Ethel M. Gardner, Milwaukee teachers, made a fight against the seating of delegates from locals with fewer than 50 members. They were outnumbered about 6 to 1. After filing a formal protest, they withdrew from further participation in the proceedings, although they kept their seats.

The fight is another phase of the same old contest led by Margaret Haley, Chicago and the Milwaukee group of teachers said a representative of the majority in the delegate assembly. "They made a fight in the N. E. A. convention at Salt Lake City, at Des Moines, and last summer at Boston. In the organization of the class room teachers department they were outnumbered 10 to 1 and when this became evident, they made a deliberate attempt to prevent election of officers, to enable the old officers, they having captured the organization to hold over another year."

"In a nutshell," declared a statement issued by Miss Gardner, president of the Milwaukee Teachers' association, the representative assembly has declared that teachers in Milwaukee shall be represented on a basis of one delegate to every fifty teachers, while teachers in smaller communities, employed in systems which employ fewer than fifty teachers, may be represented on a basis of one delegate for each 26 teachers. Milwaukee teachers do not propose to be discriminated against in this manner.

Leaders of the majority declare that the controversy is the work of a few leaders among the teachers, who insist upon starting fights in both state and national education associations over technicalities, and that the only outcome will be a split in the organization unless teachers break away from their present leadership.

BADGER FARMERS WAR ON WOLVES

Coudersport, Wis.—Farmers in the meteor settlement, ten miles southwest of here have organized to launch war against the timber wolves, which they say are proving the greatest menace to their sheep flocks, that they have ever encountered. The animals, it is said are exceedingly bold and come out in broad daylight and kill the sheep. Chris Zercher shot a wolf from his door while the animal was tearing a lamb to pieces.

First Woman Legislator Educated In Appleton

By Associated Press
Clintonville, Wis.—Mrs. Lila H. Matteson, elected member of the assembly from Waupaca-co, according to returns completed Friday, is the first woman to serve in the Wisconsin legislature. Mrs. Matteson, Republican, defeated George W. Mergers and F. Timm for the Republican nomination in the primaries and had little opposition in the election Tuesday.

Wisconsin's first assemblywoman is the mother of five children and her husband, Noyes Matteson, is president of the American Society of Equity. She is a lecturer and organizer for the Wisconsin Women's Christian Temperance union and is widely known in the state. She was born on a farm near Black Creek Wis., July 13, 1872.

"As a farm woman of 24 years experience, I know farm conditions and problems and believe that farm people alone can work them out," Mrs. Matteson said.

The assemblywoman promises to lead a fight in the legislature for supervision of dance halls in country districts not regulated by city ordinances.

"I am especially interested in legislation that will demand better supervision of dance halls," she said. "I know that the unregulated dance hall constitutes one of the chief obstacles to the well being of our young people."

Mrs. Matteson said she was not in favor of legislation seeking reforms in women's dress.

"When women have taken their rightful place in the state and nation, I believe the extreme in dress—or lack of dress—will be corrected," she said.

Mrs. Matteson has lived on a farm just outside of Clintonville since 1898. She is a graduate of Appleton high school and Lawrence college and taught school for several years in Wisconsin and Iowa.

PREDICTS NEW LEADERSHIP IN U. S. CONGRESS

Think New Element Swept Into Houses Will Force Changes

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1922, by the Post Pub. Co.
Washington—The American people voted into power on Tuesday, a new congress but it may be December of next year before the senate and house will be organized in accordance with the wishes of the electorate.

Unless President Harding calls a special session when the present congress goes out of office on Mar. 4 next the country will have to wait until December 1923 to see in action the congress elected this week and the chances are that the presidential primary campaigns of 1924 will be in full swing before the new senate and house get down to work.

WHAT'S WHAT
Washington—On the face of practically complete but unofficial returns from Tuesday elections the exact lineup by parties in the sixty-eighth congress will be:

House—
Republicans, 226.
Democrats, 206.
Socialists, 1.
Independent, 1.
Farmer Labor, 1.
Senate—
Republicans, 53.
Democrats, 42.
Farmer Labor, 1.
The Republican total in the senate is predicted on a victory for that party in the Senatorial contest in North Dakota.

swing before the new senate and house get down to work. In fact the two national conventions in June, 1924, will be held after only one session of the new congress in which the majority and minority parties can make their respective records.

SENDS OUT CALL
Mr. Harding has called a special session for Nov. 20 of this year but that is merely to speed up the present congress and give it an opportunity to dispose of ship subsidy and other important legislation before the regular session in December which runs by law only until Mar. 4. This short session will not afford much opportunity for anything else but routine appropriation bills and the big Republican majorities which were swept into office in 1920 will control both houses until Mar. 4. The president may find himself compelled by the pressure of public opinion to summon the new congress within a month or so after Mar. 4, 1923. Woodrow Wilson lost both the senate and house in the autumn of 1918 and need not have brought congress here until December, 1919 but he called a special session shortly after the Democrats relinquished their control on Mar. 4, 1919.

The big question for the politicians is whether or not they will be better for President Harding and the Republican party to postpone the beginning of the new congress until the regular session in December, 1923, or to enter the fray sooner. With the narrow majority in senate and house Mr. Harding will be face to face with the task of driving congress his way.

BARRON GIRL DISAPPEARS; PARENTS ARE DISTRACTED

Barron—After writing a note and leaving it in her bedroom, Miss Doris Greeno, 14, Barron girl, disappeared from the home of her father J. R. Greeno, and despite a search no trace of her has been found. The girl had been a student in the Barron public schools and disappeared late Sunday night, or early Monday morning. The girls' parents are distracted by confusion and uncertainty, but of course, this could not come about over night," the Senator said. "The great mass of the people do not think, study or look into the philosophy of things but are governed by what the politicians say. There has been no time for any policy or law adopted by the present administration to become effective, yet the people who do not keep in touch with affairs at Washington cannot understand this."

Clemenceau Anxious To Reach U.S.

By Associated Press
Paris—Georges Clemenceau sails away for America Saturday happy in the spirit of adventure. Friday he was gay and keen to be off. Considering his age—he was 81 last September—the eagerness with which the "Tiger of France" anticipates the experiences that are soon to come to him in the United States is quite touching to those who see him and talk with him.

What impresses his American callers the most is his youthfulness of outlook. He talks of the present and the future in the manner of a man in middle life; he refuses to be reminiscent.

This is not his second trip to America, as is commonly supposed, but his third.

"My father, who was exiled by Napoleon, thought it would be a good thing for me to go to America," Clemenceau said. "I had been following events of your Civil war and my sympathies were with the north. Almost immediately after my arrival here, I went to Richmond. There I met a good many southern people and soon found out how delightful, how simply charming they were."

Shortly before my arrival Grant had taken the city and I saw for the first time what war and bombardment meant. Then I went to Washington and later west as far as Chicago and from there to Buffalo and after a while to Boston."

In conversation Clemenceau seldom alludes to his subsequent experiences in America, first as a young gentleman of leisure and then as a teacher in a girls' school in Connecticut. His days as an instructor at the girl's school that Clemenceau met the young woman who became his wife.

Clemenceau expects to enlarge his own judgement of European situations by putting his ideas into contact with American views.

"I shall talk about the League of Nations, but I have no specific advice to offer," he remarked.

TOWNSEND SAYS HE ISN'T SURPRISED

By Associated Press
Jackson, Mich.—The Democratic reaction from the Republican landslide of 1920 is the natural sequence of events and is not to be wondered at, Senator Charles E. Townsend, defeated at the polls Tuesday by former Governor W. N. Ferris, said Friday.

"Following the change in a decision in 1920 the people generally expected immediate relief from the prevailing confusion and uncertainty, but of course, this could not come about over night," the Senator said. "The great mass of the people do not think, study or look into the philosophy of things but are governed by what the politicians say. There has been no time for any policy or law adopted by the present administration to become effective, yet the people who do not keep in touch with affairs at Washington cannot understand this."

WOEHLER FREE; COURT ORDERS CASE STOPPED

Fond Du Lac Jurist Rules State Has Failed To Prove Manslaughter Charge

Edward Woehler, 506 Appleton-st., was cleared of a charge of manslaughter in circuit court in Fond du Lac Friday morning when Judge Chester A. Fowler, before whom he was being tried, dismissed the case because the state failed to produce sufficient evidence to continue the prosecution. The court entered the order of dismissal on motion of Fred V. Heinemann counsel for Woehler. The action was taken after the state had rested its case and before the defense had introduced its evidence. Woehler had been at liberty on $2,500 bail has been released and now is at his home here.

The charge grew out of an accident on Highway 15 Sept. 3 when Paul Schweda, Milwaukee, was killed in a collision of his automobile with Woehler's machine. Woehler also was hurt and was confined in a hospital.

Woehler's charge was brought about by Mrs. Schweda. He was bound over for trial in circuit court at the preliminary hearing a few weeks ago.

The state, it is said, failed to produce evidence tending to show that Woehler was responsible for the accident.

The thieves had apparently been searching only for money and several hundred dollars in checks and a money order were left untouched.

What I could make lamps

What is prettier in a home than a beautiful lamp? It need not necessarily be an elaborate or costly one to attract favorable comment—quite often the simpler combination provokes the greatest praise.

Nowadays the process of making lamp shades, and adapting beautiful pottery to the lamp bases is quite the vogue. Anyone who is artistically inclined and who is something of a craftsman can produce any number of delightful lighting effects.

If I knew how to decorate a parchment shade, or how to assemble vases and bowls with the electrical adaptations, I would be sorely tempted to make that my business. Just think of the excellent prices I could get for my work!

OBEY TREATY, POWERS ORDER; MEET MONDAY

Russia Reported To Be Ready To Aid Kemal If Necessary

By Associated Press
Constantinople—The Allied high commissioners Friday afternoon handed a note to the Angora government representative here demanding the repeal of all measures relating to the customs, the public debt and the sanitary and other services which conflict with the capitulations of the Mudros armistice agreement of 1916.

Otherwise, says the note, the commissioners will be compelled to refer to their governments for necessary action.

The Allied generals also arranged a meeting with Rafe Pasha, the Nationalist governor here to whom they will submit minimum demands with a view to insuring the safety of the troops and control of the police.

The commissioners also will discuss the situation at Chankay consequent on the Kemalists' encroachments on the neutral zone.

Ismet Pasha, the Nationalist foreign minister in a conversation with General Harrington, the British commander on Wednesday, complained of the constant proposals to put off the peace conference which he said created a difficult situation. The high commissioner also presented a note to the Kemalists representatives protesting against the "political murder" of the journalist Ali Kemal Bey, editor of the anti-Nationalist Sabah who was condemned to death by the nationalists early this week on the charge of subversion.

SITUATION IS PUZZLE

Constantinople—No one in England seems to know whether the situation in Constantinople is better or worse. The news that has trickled through since the Turks cut the cable near Chankay has been of a vague nature and the air is full of disquieting rumors.

The Daily News has the report that Angora government has asked the Soviet government at Moscow whether the Bolsheviks will adhere to the Russo-Turkish military agreement in the event of war. This report said Moscow had replied affirmatively but the correspondent who filed the dispatch understood that such adherence would take the form of lending fear this would affect Russia's individual interests with other nations.

It is understood that military plans concerning the Near East were discussed again in the British war office

Crowder Unscrambles Many Hard Problems Facing Cuban Republic

"One Man Intervention" Met With Opposition But Accomplishes Many Reforms — Brings Law Over Revolution

Havana, Cuba.—"One Man Intervention" is a phrase coined in Cuba to describe the Crowder mission. It has superseded "Dollar Diplomacy" in Cuban attempts to analyze the latest innovation in the Pan American policy of the United States.

The recent departure of the personal representative of the American president for Washington, there to confer with his chief on future negotiations, has furnished an opportunity to summarize the results he has achieved during the 22 months he has labored to unscramble the Cuban situation.

The belief held in Washington early in 1920, that all was not well with the Island Republic, crystallized into a certainty on Dec. 31 of that year, when President Wilson named Major General Enoch H. Crowder his personal representative before President Mario G. Menocal. He was reappointed by President Harding on March 5, 1921. Except for his visit to Washington which lasted from Jan. 11 to Feb. 7, 1921, the former judge advocate general has been as strictly on the job as he was during the critical months in which he directed the formation of the national army in the United States.

HAD MANY TASKS

Confronting him upon his arrival in Havana on Jan. 6, 1921, aboard the U. S. S. Minnesota, was a task which can best be judged by outlining what has been accomplished. Briefly, it includes:

Reorganization of the Havana docks, with the removal to half a hundred bonded warehouses of goods valued at more than $50,000,000 which had been clogging the channels of commerce.

Pacific settlement of the Zayas-Gomez presidential conflict which otherwise might have brought civil war.

Reduction of the Cuban budget from $130,000,000 to $55,000,000.

Partial reorganization of governmental services, involving the elimination of nearly 15,000 useless employees.

Reformation of the first Zayas cabinet by the removal of seven of the nine members.

Reorganization of the national lottery by ending the illegal collection of nearly $10,000,000 yearly through ticket juggling.

Enactment of five emergency laws, authorizing a $50,000,000 foreign loan (with necessary new taxation) to liquidate the country's floating indebtedness, reorganizing the federal accounting system, providing for the classification of the floating debt; suspending certain provisions of the civil service and electoral codes to permit the reform cabinet members to weed the personnel of their departments in the interests of honesty and efficiency; and providing means to sweep venal officials from the judiciary.

There remains to be enacted, after the general's return from Washington, a banking law to cement together the shattered remnants of the old banking structure; measures to regulate the nation-wide gambling evil; a laid out on his arrival. Backed by the American government's conception of its duty toward Cuba, he has taken as his motto a paragraph from the instructions given the Philippine Commission in 1900 by President McKinley, which said:

"In all forms of government and administrative provisions they are authorized to prescribe, the commission should bear in mind that the government which they are establishing is designed, not for our satisfaction nor for the expression of our theoretical views, but for the happiness, peace and prosperity of the people of the Philippine islands, and the measures adopted should be made to conform to their customs, their habits and even their prejudices to the fullest extent consistent with the accomplishment of the indispensable requisites of just and efficient government."

The ideal back of the "one man intervention" is the development by the Cubans themselves of the institutional life of the republic. The practical working out of this ideal was well demonstrated in General Crowder's handling of the Zayas-Gomez election feud. The executive and legislative branches of the government had failed to settle it and, to prevent a recourse to arms, both rivals agreed to leave the matter to the courts. More than 1,400 disputed election cases were consolidated and the underlying issue was placed before the supreme court. Both candidates had accepted the tribunal as absolutely unprejudiced and, when the decision fell in favor of Alfredo Zayas, the verdict was final as far as the United States was concerned.

LAW OVER REVOLUTION

In an authoritative study of the election solution, Dr. Rafael Montoro, former secretary of state, pointed out that the recourse to the supreme court in the presidential contest was a triumph of law over revolution, and that the court's action, forestalling a foreign verdict, was an important step forward in the development of the institutional life of the republic.

In spite of all attempts from interested sources to create a despot in the person of the representative of the United States, impartial observers in Cuba now declare that public sentiment during the last six months has shifted almost completely to his side, and that he is generally accepted at his own valuation—that of friendly adviser whose counsels are based on unassailable facts and whose efforts have been directed to encourage the development of institutional government and avoid further foreign intervention and armed warfare at home.

The favorable attitude formed through the study of his accomplishments and without a single official statement from the emissary himself, and in spite of wild flurries of excitement caused by intervention reports, is expected to facilitate the solution of the few pressing problems that remain to be solved.

BADGER LEGISLATOR WANTS CONSTITABULARY FOR STATE

Madison.—Establishment of a Wisconsin state constabulary will be asked of the 1923 legislature in a bill to be introduced by Senator William L. Smith of Neillsville. Senator Smith says that he intends to propose creation of a state police force to take over the duties of game wardens, and to enforce state highway laws and help in the enforcement of prohibition.

"This suggestion will probably cause an explosion in administration circles, but nevertheless this state needs a police force similar to that in some of the other states of the nation," Senator Smith said.

way or being driven in every direction by the legislative branch of the government. He will not be able to count on as much help as heretofore because the "bloc" system of government will be in full swing. The Republican losses in Congress have been vital. Conservatives have been defeated and if Democrats have not taken their places, radical Republicans, which is to some extent even more disturbing, have triumphed and will be a thorn in the side of any leader who attempts reconciliation or harmonious party organization.

LODGE MAY QUIT

The possibility that Senator Henry Cabot Lodge will resign the republican leadership is being widely discussed here. Mr. Lodge's health recently has not been good and the truth is that it will take a younger and more vigorous personality to deal with the rebellions in the Republican party which are bound to come out in the western membership. Even Senator Underwood, the Democratic leader, wishes to resign the minority leadership because he is unequal to the strain physically.

With the elimination of Representative Mondell, Republican leader of the house, it looks as if Representative Nicholas Longworth, of Ohio, would be chosen though it would not be surprising to see seniority and rank go by the boards in a congress made up of so many radical groups. The western Republicans may demand the leadership.

BULL MUST BE WITHIN FENCE OR FACE LAW

By Associated Press

Madison.—Whenever bulls are permitted to roam unrestricted by a fence, they are running at large and violating the statutes, Attorney General Morgan held Friday. He advised O. D. Black, district attorney of Richland co., however, that farmers need not tie their animals to comply with the law.

Complaints by teachers and parents of school children, frightened by bulls along the highway, brought the opinion from the attorney general holding that all animals must be kept fenced in.

"Where the only restraint upon the wanderings of the animal is his own disposition to travel, he is running at large in violation of the law," Mr. Morgan said.

The Nationalists continue to clamor for getting down to business on scheduled time and the French apparently want to accommodate them but the British feel a postponement is highly desirable.

The text of Russia's reply to the invitation of the Allies for the Soviet plenipotentiaries to attend the Lausanne conference merely during the discussion of the straits has been received here. It reiterates these views expressed by Foreign Minister Tchitcherin in his note of Oct. 20, contending that the exclusion of Russia from the whole conference proves the Allies have decided to deprive Turkey of the fruits of her victories. The reply claims the Soviet government is in effect a sort of protector of Asiatic nations and insists that the Moscow governments of the Ukraine and of Georgia should be given full participation at Lausanne.

Extensive festivities are planned for Saturday night after the game, when the fraternities will entertain their alumni with dances and parties.

Jacques Thibaud GREATEST FRENCH VIOLINIST

AND perhaps the greatest musician she has ever sent to this country, has earned for this exquisite player a following which has of late assumed extraordinary proportions.

Among the representatives of the French Schools, Thibaud is without a rival, producing a tone that is pure and lovely, bowing with elegance, and possessing a caressing style peculiar to his own. He plays a rare Stradivarius.

"Jacques Thibaud is one of the greatest violinists now before the public. Seldom indeed, has a Carnegie Hall audience heard violin playing so flawless from every possible point of view, and at the same time so inspired and inspiring."—New York Evening Post

"The overwhelming applause which Thibaud received upon his entrance on the stage and which persisted after his concluding number with unabated vigor until the orchestra, joining in, gave him a fanfare, was a personal expression quite as much as an appreciation of his exquisite art, for Thibaud is not only a rare artist, but a French patriot as well. His performance was marked by the same finish, the same refinement and sound musicianship which are characteristic of him."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune

"Thibaud stands firmly placed among the ranks of truly noteworthy violinists. Perhaps none can boast of a more beautiful tone, which is as pure and flawless as the voice of some bird in the forest. He has all that possibly could be required in the way of technique, with an elegance of style and finish of execution that but few acquire."—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin

Louis Graveure THE DISTINGUISHED BARITONE

LOUIS GRAVEURE, the distinguished baritone, is said by those who know him to be by all odds the most versatile singer ever known to the concert stage. This does not refer to the fact that Mr. Graveure can sing in many languages, but that his programs include operatic selections from many composers, as well as folk songs, classical songs, even humorous songs.

He was trained as a sculptor and discovered later that he had an unusual voice, a deep basso profundo, which he developed studying in France and Germany. An attack of diphtheria resulted in his losing his singing voice altogether. Years spent in South African diamond fields followed and later on a trip to Canada, he discovered that his voice was returning. He found that he could sing a note without hurting himself if he sang it in a certain way and he developed the way of least resistance. His voice grew stronger and proved to be a rich baritone. His unusually successful concert career in this country proves the rare beauty of this new voice.

"He has one of the best baritone voices ever heard in a Cleveland concert hall. It is rich, flexible, has a splendid range, sonorous, of great volume, and it is full of color and dramatic intensity. In short, it is about everything that one wishes a baritone voice to be."—Archie Bell, Cleveland Leader

"Mr. Graveure is a master vocalist, the possessor of a voice of exceptionally velvety and lovely quality, which he uses with an art that is as remarkable as it is rare. His diction in English, French and Italian is beyond praise, and his grasp of musical style is complete."—W. L. Hubbard, Chicago Tribune

"CAPPY RICKS."

"Cappy Ricks"

The Great American Comedy Based on the Saturday Evening Post Stories, Given by the New York Cast of Six Exceptional Actors

PETER B. KYNE, who wrote "Cappy Ricks," spent his spare time several years ago along the San Francisco water front, acquainting himself with the rare types of humanity peculiar to that locality. There he met an old sea captain with a keen sense of humor, who always insisted on having his own way, right or wrong. Around this weather-beaten old sea-dog, Mr. Kyne wrote the "Cappy Ricks" stories which found favor with millions of readers of the Saturday Evening Post.

It was dramatized and presented on Broadway with Tom Wise and William Courtens in the leading roles.

The opening scene of the play is in the office of Alden P. Ricks, known to his friends as "Cappy" gruff, blustering, headstrong, but never vindictive.

"Cappy Ricks" is one of the cleanest plays on the American stage. In it there is not a dull moment. It is so delightfully different that you will talk about it for months. It is a human document right out of the Book of Life.

Harold Bauer MASTER PIANIST

HAROLD BAUER, the famous pianist is too well known to require an introduction to Appleton audiences. Mr. Bauer has played with every Symphony Orchestra in America and has given recitals in every important musical center in the United States.

"Wherever there are music lovers there is Harold Bauer," might be said of him, without undue exaggeration. For he has played in literally every civilized part of the globe. He is therefore, well qualified to discuss the differences in response of various countries and peoples. In America he has played in all except two states in the Union, while almost every civilized country in Europe has made him welcome; France, England, Italy, Germany, Spain, Russia, Switzerland, the Scandinavian Peninsula, Holland, Constantinople, Australia and Honolulu.

The veteran critic of the New York Evening Post, Mr. Henry T. Finck, sums up Mr. Bauer's attributes in this striking way: "One does not need to be a musician to listen to him. He makes the meaning of the composer so clear that a person without the least conception of harmony could hear and enjoy. Bauer is heart and soul in the piece he is rendering, and his masterly intellect recognizes every value of tone, phrase or climax, to the exclusion of all mannerism. His playing is the absolute perfection of interpretation."

Mr. and Mrs. Michitaro Ongawa

IN A PROGRAM OF JAPANESE PLAYS, MUSIC AND DANCES

MR. ONGAWA is a Samurai of the Tokugawa clan which guided the destinies of the Japanese Empire for nearly 300 years, as its actual rulers. His boyhood days were spent in the practice of the two handed sword and the long bow. His father, Ogawa Yoshinobu, had the honor to be the first ordained Christian minister in Japan.

The program which he presents with his wife is designed to picture the poetic romantic life of Old Japan, fast disappearing before the bustling, commercial spirit of today. They will sing songs ages old to the accompaniment of the samisen, the gakkoin and the drum, they will dance the folk dances that were danced a thousand years ago upon the cherry-bowered hillside, and tell stories that were told to the children when the rice itself was in its childhood.

The costumes, the songs all brought to me most vividly the atmosphere of Japan.—Jane Addams.

FAMOUS FRENCH VIOLINIST HERE MONDAY EVENING

Thibaud Concert Will Be Real Treat For Appleton Music Lovers

Appleton music lovers will be given one of the greatest treats of their lives next Monday evening when Jacques Thibaud, France's greatest violinist and probably her greatest musical genius, presents a program in Lawrence Memorial chapel under the auspices of Community Artist and Lecture series. Tickets for this number will be sold for $1, 75 cents and 50 cents. Thibaud's recital is said to be one of the feature numbers of the season's program.

Thibaud was born in Bordeaux in 1890. He studied first under his father and then at the Paris Conservatoire where under Marsick he gained a premier prix. To supplement his modest means he played at the Cafe Rouge, where he was by Edouard Colonne. This famous conductor promptly offered the young violinist an orchestral position, and soon there came an unexpected chance to appear as soloist. So popular did Thibaud become that he played no less than fifty-four times at the Colonne concerts in a single season.

His fame in Paris established, the violinist visited other continental cities, finally America, his first tour in 1907, winning his prompt recognition. Since then his standing throughout the musical world and today he is accorded a place among the foremost contemporary violinists. His second visit to this country was during the season of 1913-14, and his playing made a deeper impression than ever. A third tour booked the following season. In response to an overwhelming demand, was delayed by the outbreak of the war. Thibaud's military duties were of a hazardous character, and he acquitted himself with his recovery slow, circumstances which prompted the authorities to grant him leave of absence.

Among representatives of the French school, Thibaud is without a rival, producing a tone that is pure and lovely, bowing with elegance and possessing a caressing style peculiarly his own. His repertoire embraces practically the entire scope of violin literature. For some time Thibaud played a violin by Carlo Borzoni, but he is now the possessor of even a finer instrument, a rare Stradivarius, once the property of Beethoven.

INVITE PUBLIC TO PAGEANT IN CHAPEL SATURDAY

High School Students Will Repeat "To Arms For" Liberty

Appleton high school students will repeat their pageant, "To Arms For Liberty," in Lawrence Memorial chapel Saturday evening and every person in Appleton is invited to attend. The students' original plan was to offer the pageant only for college and high school people but a few townspeople who saw it were so impressed that they requested high school authorities to give a public performance. The pageant will begin at 8 o'clock and requires about an hour for presentation. It is a delightful story of patriotism, replete with costume and scenic effects.

The pageant will be the only public observance of Armistice day in Appleton and for that reason Mayor Henry Reuter, in a proclamation issued Friday, urges every citizen of the city to attend.

There will be no admission charge.

NICHOLS BECOMING FLOURISHING TOWN

Purchase Of Casket Factory Site Does Not Affect Fruit Plant, Nichols Says

Nichols village will become more of an industrial center than ever now that the All-American Steel Casket Corporation is to locate a plant there on land purchased this week by J. A. Burrichter of St. Paul, Minn., financier.

This in no way affects the Our Way Fruit company, the operation of its plant or the ownership, according to A. L. Nichols, founder of the town and head of that concern. An impression was abroad, he declares, that the purchase included his holdings. The tract of land Mr. Burrichter bought takes in only part of the village and does not include the locations of the fruit preserving plant, the waterworks plant or the Nichols bank. It is a factory site obtained from Nichols Land company.

With the addition of the casket factory, this community established a few years ago will have these two plants, a flour mill, cheese factory, and several smaller enterprises. The village is located at the northern border of Outagamieco on the Soo line, formerly the Wisconsin & Northern road.

Mrs. J. C. Goe of Shiocton is the guest of Mrs. William Nemacheck, 904 Washington-st.

HEALY WILL TELL WHY CITY SHOULD DEMAND PURE MILK

Chamber Of Commerce Speaker Will Point Out Actual Situation In State

Why Appleton should have an ordinance preventing tuberculous milk from reaching the homes, and why the movement for testing cows for this disease should be made county-wide, will be explained by Dr. James S. Healy, Madison, in his address at the chamber of commerce forum meeting at 6:15 Monday evening in the Sherman house.

Dr. Healy was invited to speak here because he can point out to the layman perhaps better than anybody else the actual danger of the existence of the disease in cattle. He has been in all parts of the country in his work as federal inspector in charge of tuberculin eradication and knows the conditions.

Members of the chamber are urged in the latest issue of Community Betterment, mailed out Thursday, to attend the dinner, at which the government motion picture, "Out of the Shadows," and dealing with this subject, also will be shown.

In a cover page editorial entitled, "Wisconsin's Fight Against a Foreign Criminal," Secretary Hugh G. Corbett reviews the entry of tuberculosis into this country and tells the early history of the state movement to rid dairy herds of infected cows.

City officials and farmers who attend will be invited to take part in the discussion which is to follow the talk. The chamber is desirous of dealing with this subject from all angles.

THE HOPE OF THE WORLD

The war of 1914 laid half the nations of the world in the dust. Their homes, their industries, their peace must be restored by the rising generation. In them is the hope of the world.

To make motherhood easier, to secure for every baby a clean bill of health and a fair start in life—that is the problem.

Lidia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for mothers and for future mothers. For fifty years this medicine has been used successfully in all non-surgical cases of women's diseases.

BUSINESS WILL NOT SUSPEND FOR ARMISTICE EVENT

Most Noted Anniversary Will Be Observed With Exercises Here Tomorrow

Although Saturday is the anniversary of the biggest event in the history of the world, the signing of the armistice ending the World war on Nov. 11, 1918, yet the city will not suspend its activities in observance of the day.

Movements in congress and in the state legislature to make it a legal holiday have not met with success and the observance therefore does not take on the semblance of other patriotic holidays such as Independence day.

Appleton is not forgetting the memorable anniversary, however. Veterans of the war will hold a jubilation banquet in Elk hall at 6:30 in the evening under auspices of Oney John (son post of the American Legion and with the women auxiliary to the post in charge of the serving. Attorney J. P. Frank is to be the speaker.

A second event will be the presentation of the pageant, "To Arms for Liberty," in Lawrence Memorial chapel at 8 o'clock in the evening by pupils of the high school, as related elsewhere in this issue.

Schools and a number of organizations have held programs during the week appropriate to Armistice day as a reminder of its fourth anniversary. Veterans of the Rainbow division will hold a dance in the armory Friday evening for the benefit of their disabled comrades.

TRAAS TRUCK BURNS ON COUNTY ROAD

A Chevrolet motortruck belonging to Peter Traas & Co. grocers, 598 College-ave., was destroyed by fire at 8:30 Thursday night while returning from Albert Wittlin's farm in the town of Center with a load of cabbage and eggs.

Henry Tillman who was driving the truck, said the trouble was caused by backfire. He secured water from a farmhouse nearby but said the only effect it had was to scatter the flames.

Everything in close proximity to the tank was destroyed by the fire and at one time the tank was bordering on being red hot but did not explode.

Birthplace of Lincoln

Our Debt to the Pioneer

For a woman of pioneer days, Nancy Hanks Lincoln was unusually well educated and remarkably brave of spirit, for in the humblest surroundings she not only taught her son to read and write, but implanted in him a deep desire for the education he afterward so hardily won and so grandly used.

While we can never repay, it is good that America should remember her debt to the pioneer, and to contrast the privations of the past with present-day plenty. Our store is teeming with vivid object lessons!

Consider our Furniture department, the Drapery section and if you would fully realize how far we have advanced, examine our wonderful display of floor coverings, particularly the new designs and colorings in Hardwick & Magee Co's.

MILD WEATHER IS HELP TO CITY IN BUILDING WORK

Progress Is Made On Municipal, High School And Bank Structures

Kaukauna—Building operations in this city have been facilitated greatly by the mild fall weather and the absence of rainy and windy days. Workmen have taken advantage of the opportunity and have been rushing the work. The finishing touches are being applied to the municipal building. The copper frames for the large display windows in the front of the building practically are in place and the doors on the smaller entrances are being hung.

The new high school is going upward with exceptional speed. LAYING of brick on the third story has progressed and it will be only a short time before the roof is built. The white stone at each of the three entrances to the building already has been put in place, giving the passerby a vision of the attractiveness of the entire building after its completion. While the brick work is advancing rapidly, the finishing work on the interior will take longer, according to the superintendent in charge. The school is to be one of the prettiest in Wisconsin and considerable time will be required to complete the inside.

A. Moorman Co., bank building contractors, St. Paul, which has the contract to build the Farmers and Merchants bank, has finished tearing out partitions and the fronts of the former First National bank and the city electrical office. The work of building the new bank front now is under way. The superintendent of construction expects to have the structure enclosed before snow flies. Among other changes in the building will be the enlargement of the bank vault. It will be fitted with the burglar-proof door tried out with success a few weeks ago.

APPEAL TO RED CROSS MEMBERS TO JOIN AGAIN

Quiet Campaign Is Counted On To Support Red Cross For Year

Kaukauna—Depending upon citizens in Kaukauna to renew their Red Cross memberships without personal solicitation, the Kaukauna branch of the American Red Cross society has decided that a membership drive this year will be conducted very quietly. The society does not have to support a trained nurse for the city, the council and school board having taken that matter into hand, but money is necessary to continue to carry on some of the organization's work.

There will be no house to house canvass. People are asked to renew their membership by notifying one of the officers. It is expected that in this way the local membership will mount as high as in other years when intensive campaigns were held.

The officers are: Mrs. A. R. McDonald, chairman; Miss Jehmima Bell, vice chairman; Alpha Merbach, secretary; Mrs. C. D. Towles, treasurer; Miss Flora Seifert, assistant secretary; Miss Elizabeth Walsh, nurse. The board of directors consists of Dr. C. D. Boyd, C. D. Towles, John Tummers, Miss J. Bell, Miss Alpha Merbach, Mrs. E. J. Prugh, L. G. Schussman, Mrs. E. S. Cooke, Mrs. W. C. Sullivan, Mrs. W. N. Nolan, Mrs. A. R. McDonald, Elbert Zekind and M. P. Mitchell.

SEEK TO BUILD INTEREST IN HIGH SCHOOL DEBATES

Kaukauna—Interest in debate grew in the high school this week following a pep meeting at which all students with debating ability were asked to sign up for the local team. Two students signed up. It is expected there will be no difficulty in securing a large team from which to pick the local representatives in the league and district contests to be conducted under the Wisconsin Interscholastic Debate League, organized by Lawrence College.

The first contests between local debaters will be held in a few weeks. Last year 14 boys and girls competed for places on the team.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR HIGH SCHOOL CARNIVAL

KAUKAUNA PLAYS FOND DU LAC TO A SCORELESS TIE

Both Teams Miss Chance To Score—Ott Is Big Star Of Game

Kaukauna—The high school football eleven and Fond du Lac played a spectacular game on the local grid Thursday afternoon. The battle ended in a scoreless tie. Although the entire Kaukauna team played well, the weight and strength of Elmer Ott and his ability to gain when a gain was needed, proved an important factor in evening up the two teams and in giving the Orange and Black what few chances they received to score.

Both schools presented formidable lines and each was able to gain on the other only a comparatively few times. The forward pass was used again and again to gain ground. As a result of the passing game, in which the local team probably excelled, three golden opportunities to score were offered. Each time the ball was worked to the visitors nine or ten yards where forward passes were intercepted or fumbles interrupted chances for a score.

Fond du Lac nearly received the game on a platter at the beginning of a quarter when a long pass put the pigskin within Kaukauna's 10 yard line. Four desperate plunges failed to penetrate Coach Waterpool's line and Kaukauna received the ball on the two yard marker. Metz punted out and the visitors were given another chance but a drop kick failed and Kaukauna took up the march from the four yard line. After a gain of five yards by Bayoregon, Captain Ott broke through for a run of 32 yards. Other local backs were unable to hit the line for gains and out was compelled to take the ball almost every turn. His plunges, augmented by occasional scoring distance where the march each time stopped.

The game was full of fight from beginning to end. Fond du Lac started with a rush that almost carried Kaukauna off its feet. The visitors were easily outplaying the Orange and Black during the first quarter until Ott, by his 32 yard run, carried the ball from dangerous territory to the middle of the field. From then Kaukauna took hold and kept the ball in the opponent's territory very much of the time.

Fondy excelled in punting in the early stages of the game. The invaders were unable to make their yards by line plunges but each punt brought them nearer the goal line after Kaukauna also was forced to kick.

SPIED TODAY

Out of the forty or fifty letters sent to "I Spied Today" editor of the Post-Crescent Thursday and Friday, less than a dozen could be printed. All the rest were discarded either because the writers did not comprehend the purpose of the section or because their statements were too indefinite. The purpose of "I Spied Today" is to obtain a report of news happenings which escape the attention of reporters on the staff of the Post-Crescent. They should contain an element of unusual interest and must be written in an interesting manner, with careful attention to details. Time and place should be specifically mentioned and all other details which will identify the participants are necessary for a complete account. "I Spied Today" offers a splendid opportunity to persons who are observing to earn tickets to the Elite theatre. A pass good for two admissions to the Elite are given for each item printed. "Monte Cristo," one of the best pictures of the year starts at the playhouse Monday.

JUST ANOTHER BAG
Thursday as I was coming to the Lawrence Memorial chapel I saw on College-ave a hay rack filled with bags of grain. The team stopped in front of an ice cream parlor and the driver and his wife went inside. Just then I heard a baby cry and to my surprise I spied a youngster between the bags of grain on a pillow.

WHY DIDN'T YOU PICK IT UP?
Yesterday, I was on Spencer-ave. I saw a young man eating a banana. He carelessly threw the peeling on the sidewalk. Shortly after a lady came along, and not noticing the peeling, stepped upon it and fell on the sidewalk. She tried to rise but found her ankle was sprained. A man took her home in his car.

LEFT LUNCH BEHIND
Two dogs playing on a sidewalk suddenly took a notion to carry their lunch into the street and they ran directly into the path of a man riding a bicycle. One of the dogs smashed into the front wheel of the bicycle and heaved the rider into the street, scattering the contents of his lunch basket in all directions. He picked himself up, brushed off his clothes and with a few mutterings, rode off, leaving his lunch to the dogs.

LONG RANGE BRAVERY
He was occupying the rear seat of his master's touring car as it passed east on College-ave and in crossing the railroad track he spied another dog about his own size following two men on the sidewalk. He made a loud and vicious attack from his perch and the other dog immediately gave chase.

As soon as the pursuer drew long side of the car the pampered dog dropped into the body of the machine and remained quiet until there was no further danger and then peered over the edge to see if the coast was clear. After satisfying himself it was he returned to his seat.

MODERN PIED PIPER
About 4:30 Wednesday afternoon as I was walking on a street I heard some music and began looking for a grand organ and a monkey but instead I saw a school girl with about fifteen young children crowded around her sitting on a pavement stone playing on a mouth-organ. On finishing her entertainment she got up and started for home with all the children following her.

TOO STRICKEN FOR WORDS
I saw a man come out of Fish's grocery and cross the street carrying a large bag of apples. When he got about in the center of the street the bag broke and the apples rolled over the pavement. Boys coming home from school just then picked up a couple of apples each and ran away while the man stood speechless and watched them.

Sydney, Australia—W. E. Johnson, the American temperate advocate, recently passed through Sydney on his way to New Zealand to help the anti-liquor fight there.

A lunch-hour meeting was held in Sydney Town Hall to welcome him on his arrival, and in the evening he addressed a big meeting in the Hippodrome. He declared that prohibition in America was a tremendous success. Experience had shown, he said, that prohibition was for the benefit of the race and the advancement of civilization.

and Mrs. Glenn Frees spent Thursday evening at the home of E. H. Lutsy at Oshkosh.

Mrs. John Marshall is seriously ill at her home.

The Dramatic club will put on the play, "The Merry Cobbler," at Hol-ladown Sunday evening.

MADE HIM MAD
Last Saturday noon, I spied, on Rankin-st, a young man shooting at targets with an air rifle. Evidently he was not any of the best, because it wasn't very long before an autoist who was passing by, climbed out of his car, and in words that might escape any man who is a little hot under the collar, he told the young man that one of the shots had struck his automobile.

LOOK BOTH WAYS
The other night I saw an incident, which might have been serious. A man trying to cross Oneida-st in front of the "Y" was watching a long line of autos coming from Lawrence-st and turning onto Oneida. He stepped off the curb directly before a car coming from College-ave. The driver put on the brakes and the man jumped back to the curb. If the auto had not slowed up to turn the corner, the man would probably have been seriously injured or killed.

STEINMETZ WORKS ON ELECTRIC CAR

Gas Buggy Manufacturers May Have New Form Of Competition

Special to Post-Crescent
Syracuse, N. Y.—Far better than his latest electric motor car will be the model now being completed by Dr. Charles P. Steinmetz, electrical wizard, at his experimental plant here.

This is the promise given by Steinmetz himself to those who are waiting for the final approval of his latest electric vehicle.

It was only a little less than a year ago that production was started on the Steinmetz electric for delivery purposes. Now manufacturers of this vehicle are preparing for improved machinery that will produce a lighter form of electric chassis not only for commercial use, but for passenger bodies as well.

Little is as yet known about this latest product of the electrical genius. It has just been completed, but has not yet been fully tested. Still, its designer and its manufacturers express full confidence as to the outcome of the tests. The experimental chassis is being packed for the Baltimore branch of the Steinmetz firm, where the tests will be held.

From the little that is known about this improved vehicle it is believed automobile owners will have a new form of electric-machine to look forward to. The salient features of the Steinmetz car now being produced have been improved upon in the new car, its manufacturers say.

These, they say are:

1. Low cost of maintenance and repair.
2. Simplicity of operation and reliability.
3. Quick getaway.
4. Sustained speed.
5. Resiliency.
6. Minimum vibration.

The weight of the batteries on the car are evenly distributed between the front and the driver's seat. The chassis also has a motor suspension and gearing which is said to be an improved type of that on electric trolley cars.

FIERY, ITCHY SKIN QUICKLY SOOTHED WITH SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing soothes fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.
The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.
A small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store.

NO LOVE LOST HERE
It doesn't take much to attract a crowd. Thursday noon two sparrows got into an argument on the edge of the sidewalk in front of Bohl and Maeger's shoe store on Appleton-st and in a few minutes a half dozen men gathered to watch the scrap. One man more tender-hearted than the rest, tried to separate the scrappers but they wouldn't be parted. They carried their battle into the middle of the street and when they were chased again they began fighting on top of a sign board until both fell off. The last seen of them they were hunting a place to carry on their feud without interruption. A third bird watched the struggle from a few feet away and from his actions it was judged he was "the third man in the ring."

Barthelmess Shows New Talent as Fisherman in "The Seventh Day"
Richard Barthelmess is a unique star who can shift his portrayals from the Virginia mountains of "Tolable David" to the Chinese quarters of "Broken Blossoms" and the Mexican squallor of "Scarlet Days" and still carry each part over by sheer simplicity and sincerity. The statement was proven again with the opening of "The Seventh Day" at the Elite Theatre today.

In his latest First National attraction and second starring venture, Barthelmess has the part of John Allen, young New Englander who is the captain of his own fishing yacht but not of his fate. That is because he happens to have a heart that functions like most hearts and manages to skip a beat or two when a girl of seemingly perfect appeal passes by.

Patricia Vance, played by Louise Huff is the girl. It doesn't matter so much what she was before John met her. She was quite respectable, of course, but belonged to the society flapper type that neither waves nor spins, except when the little "put and take" top is in action. She and a big party have been marooned at the fishing town by the collapse of the yacht's engine.

It is what Patricia is after meeting John that counts and therein the picture reveals a story of unusual charm and conviction with the waves of the sea and the pines of Maine as a background. There is something sentimental and real about the conclusion that brings a throbbing breast, even as the sight of a butterfly with a broken wing trying to reach the light.

The story is an original from the pen of Porter Emerson Browne, who has written such stage successes as "The Bad Man" and "A Fool There Was." It was directed by Henry King.

Gloria Swanson A Dancer in Picture
Gloria Swanson proves conclusively in her forthcoming Paramount picture, "Her Gilded Cage" that if she had not become a screen star she would have flamed almost as brilliantly on the boards as a dancer. She indicates this by appearing as a dancer in this picture, and her exhibition of the modern "terpsichorean art" is at once perfect, beautiful and original. She dances several times and wears many striking costumes. The picture will be here next week and it doubtless will attract much attention.

Physician Surprised
"Hearing of some good results from the use of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy I decided to try it on a chronic case of indigestion and gastritis I was interested in. After the first dose the patient was relieved of gas trouble and was soon able to eat radishes and many things he had not eaten in years." It removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale at all druggists.

AMERICAN CANNED MILK IS POPULAR IN EUROPE

By Associated Press
Petrograd — American evaporated milk is finding an enormous sale in Russia. Nearly as much milk in tins including brands never retailed in the United States, is shown in the shop windows of Petrograd and Moscow as can be found displayed in American cities. Many of these brands apparently are put up exclusively for export trade.

The price here for a one pound tin is from 20 to 30 cents. American milk may be bought at the railway stations, in the villages and at the great markets in the cities. In many instances it is peddled by children.

CIVICS STUDENTS SEE TWENTY MADE CITIZENS OF U. S.

Four Women Given Papers At Hearing—Three Are Denied Petitions

Twenty applicants for citizenship were admitted as members of Uncle Sam's family in circuit Thursday morning before Judge E. V. Werner. The court room was filled with high school students who came to witness the proceedings. The Womens Relief corps auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic presented silk flags to those who were admitted to citizenship. Four women received their final papers.

Under the new law the wives of those who were admitted Thursday must take out good papers, even though some of them were born in the United States, as they lost their citizenship by marriage to an alien.

HOLD THREE HEARINGS

Three candidates for citizenship were denied naturalization papers, while the petition of a fourth was continued. At Shawana, Wednesday, 20 aliens were admitted to citizenship before Judge Werner and George N. Danielson, United States attorney.

Two men dismissed as they were unable to do English. The judge and the examiner are to have a hearing at Antigo Friday.

The hearing at the courthouse here Thursday morning proved to be highly instructive for the four high school classes in civics that attended the examination. They were the classes of Miss Blanche McCarthy, Miss Reulah Connell, Harry Clark and H. H. Helble.

DID NOT STUDY
The petition of Anton Vanderheyden of Combined Locks, was dismissed by the court on motion of Examiner Danielson because the petitioner had not obeyed the court's order to prepare himself for citizenship by attending night school.

The petition of Anton Kcevon of Little Chute was dismissed because he could not talk English. The petition of Andrew Folke Anderson of Oconto was dismissed for the reason that he stated in his questionnaire during the war that he was willing to surrender his first papers to keep out of the army.

One petitioner from Little Chute was continued to enable him to take instruction so that he will be able to answer the questions asked about the government.

20 ADMITTED
Following are the new citizens admitted by Judge Werner:
Jacob Schaefer, Joseph Frank Schultz, Gustav Pernert, August E. E. Bartmann, Frederick Ganzel, Rudolph Albert Hasse, Otto Carl Becker, Minnie L. L. Sonkowsky and Berta Martha Sonkowsky, all former subjects of the German Empire; George VanderLaarschot, formerly subject of the Queen of Netherlands; Sister Mary Melito, nee Conolly, Robert Doyle O'Neill, William J. C. Lemke, Isaac Coles and Frances Mirau, former British subjects; Florent Desloz, former subject of King Albert of Belgium; John E. Steel, Swedish subject; Paul Sneider, of the Republic of Austria; Frederick Gehrike of the present government in Russia; Mike Der Tavitian, former subject of Mohammed VI Sultan of Turkey.

Copies of the program which contain the names of many prominent speakers have been received here.

Mystery And Thrills Are Sought By Kids In Books

The children's department in Appleton Public library is a busy place for the greater part of each week. It is popular with the youngsters from the tiny tots who care only about the bright colored pictures to the 14-year-olds who are old enough to have their cards transferred to the "grown up" library.

Many of the children have their enthusiasm for good reading aroused by the reference work their school teachers send them to the library to get. They find it great fun to look up the records of men famous in American history and then be able to report their efforts to the class. Greek and Roman mythology is in popular demand with the upper grade children for their study of Achilles and Ulysses in the regular reading lessons creates a desire to go deeper in to their mysteries of the myths.

All the young folks are interested in stories and have their favorite books and authors the same as anyone else. The beginners love fairy stories and popular ones include "Little Black Sambo," "The Cock, the Mouse and the Little Red Hen," and "Peter Rabbit." The pictures are beautiful to the eyes of the readers and the books are read and reread until the stories are almost memorized. Andersen's "Fairy Tales" also are popular but they are of a different nature than "Alice in Wonderland" and appeal to older story lovers.

Just at the present radio books are in demand with the small boys who seem to be trying to equal dad in their knowledge of the subject. In fact books which thrill the youthful readers with their tales of wild adventure and carry them back to the wonders of pioneer days and scalping expeditions are among the most popular.

Animal stories especially ones about horses and dogs are most appreciated and of them "Black Beauty" is a general favorite. Stories of King Arthur and his chivalrous band of knights are appealing because of the unusual places they tell about and the wonderful things they do and pilgrim stories of the days when white people first lived in North America and of the old superstitious villages do their share in fascinating the youngsters.

"My Secret?— A touch of henna for the hair of every woman, to bring out all its beauty"

An interview with an internationally famous hair dresser

By HELENA J. KNIGHT

THE beau monde of Paris and the social world of New York acknowledge him to be a master of his art.

"Madame desires—?" His bow was perfect.

"Tell me. What do you use that works such miracles of beauty with the hair? How do you give it such freshness, such life, such lustre? What is your secret?"

Smiling, he shrugged his shoulders.

"My secret? It is hardly that. It is known to every woman who makes of beauty a cult. It is simple. A touch of henna!"

"Henna?" I confess I was surprised.

"Ah, madame," he said quickly, "I know what you think—what many think. But in every art are refinements. Some misuse them, but the artist gives them their subtle values. So it is with henna. The artist takes just a suggestion of its warmth and fire, and with it touches madame's hair. The effect is magical!"

"That is beautifully said, monsieur," I could not help exclaiming. "But the color of the hair—does it change?"

"But no, madame! The blonde remains a blonde; the brunette, a brunette. But the transformation! Ah! After a henna shampoo, the hair of each is radiant with its own natural color and quality—and with more! All women do not know, madame, what a wealth of undiscovered beauty their hair holds for them if they would but bring it out with henna."

"And you would recommend that every woman use it?"

"Every woman—provided she can obtain it properly prepared. For then her shampoo will add more to her charm than it has ever done before."

HENNAFOAM SHAMPOO contains a touch of henna, scientifically prepared and proportioned, and blended with pure, cleansing vegetable oils.

When the clear, subtly fragrant liquid of Hennafoam Shampoo is rubbed into the hair, it foams up in clouds of soft lather.

As the lather cleanses and refreshes the hair, the touch of henna works its own magic.

JACQUOT IS HEAD OF COMMITTEE TO CONFER WITH SOO

Action Will Be Taken To Have Appleton Placed On North-west Main Line

John L. Jacquot has been made chairman of the special committee of the chamber of commerce which will confer with officials of the Soo line concerning possibility of having its main line altered out of Medina Junction so as to include Appleton on its northwestern route.

Seven other men appointed to the committee are John Conway, J. D. Steele, Seymour Gmainer, S. W. Murphy, H. A. Babcock, C. C. Hockley and J. P. Frank.

Mr. Jacquot is expected to call the committee together soon to study the situation before approaching railroad officials. It is believed by the chamber that the alteration of routes is possible because the Soo line has a branch running through Appleton.

It is believed the change will be of material benefit to Appleton, if accomplished because the fast trains from Chicago to Minneapolis then will pass through here. The Soo line also will reap more business, the chamber thinks, because of the service afforded.

RADIO NEWS

Chicago—Get ready to tune in on grand opera!

Prolonged attempts to get the co-operation of large opera companies with radio broadcasting organizations have finally been successful. On the evening of Nov. 13 the Chicago Opera Company will give its first complete radio opera, the first ever to be broadcast by wireless.

The opera selected will be "Aida," and Rosa Raisa, famous Russian soprano will sing the title role.

Impresarios and music critics the country over have wondered over the possibility of sending out grand opera by means of the ether waves. Some of them doubted its practicability. But many expressed their curiosity to see how such an experiment would be received by the radio public.

First efforts to broadcast grand opera were made through the Metropolitan Opera Company in New York. But nothing was done and the New York company finally decided it would not send out any of its operas by radio.

The experiment here is receiving the hearty cooperation of the Chicago Opera Company officials and the artists. "Aida" will be presented in the Auditorium Theater on the evening of the 13th and it will be from there that the music will be sent to the broadcasting station of KYYW and out into the air for reception of radio fans who can tune in on this station.

Opera selections were broadcast last year, through station KYYW and by artists of the Chicago Opera Company. But the music of last year was merely a sample of what the managers intend to broadcast this season.

AMATEUR LIST GROWS

That interest in wireless has grown considerably is shown by the fact that, in the last 15 months, the number of amateur stations in the United States has increased by more than 50 per cent. There were 16,803 licensed amateurs on June 30, 1921, and 16,467 on Sept. 1, 1922.

BIG RADIO DEMAND

The enormous demand for radio products in the United States may be surmised from the fact that production increased 11 times from 1914. Bureau of Standards. The estimated value of apparatus made during 1921 has been placed at $100,000,000.

Plan Bazaar

Wants Uncle Sam To Stop River Pollution

Walton Magazine Points To Paper Mills As Causing The Real Problem—Barber Says Condition Can Be Remedied

The most important problem before the Isaac Walton League of America is stream pollution, according to an article that appeared in the recent issue of the Isaac Walton League Monthly, in which considerable space is given to conditions in Appleton and along the Fox River valley.

Federal control is given as the only solution to prevent the destruction of fish life by waste poured in by papermills, canning plants and other industries, it is declared by Dr. James A. Henshall, authority on this subject, who penned the article. The unified vote of a million sportsmen banded together, he writes, would prove so invincible that the government would be constrained to take remedial action.

QUOTES BARBER

W. E. Barber, Wisconsin conservation commissioner is quoted in some of the revelations the writer has to make on conditions existing in the Fox and Wisconsin river valleys. He is of the opinion that the state legislature is the body to take action in preventing pollution of streams. "Along the Fox and Wisconsin river valleys there are about 60 paper mills," Mr. Barber reported, "together with other industrial plants in the different cities on the streams. The papermill waste is enormous but it can be controlled. We have visited every papermill in the state, we have been to the pea canning plants and have laid many plans before them. Some have cooperated and gone ahead with certain improvements, but the great bulk of the waste matter is still flowing into the streams, destroying fish life, polluting the waters, and making them unfit for domestic use."

The way to settle the matter ac-

According to Mr. Barber, is for the states to enact stringent legislation providing heavy penalties for violation of the law, giving these institutions sufficient time to regulate their plants to take care of the waste and then enforce the law.

Mr. Barber also is quoted concerning action he took to prevent the dumping of sediment from an old tank into the river, showing how the refuse could be disposed of elsewhere just as easily. He gave illustrations showing how penalties for dumping practices ought to be more severe as the maximum fine now is only $100 a petty amount in the eyes of large companies.

WILLIAM TESCH IS GRANTED DIVORCE

Wife Accused Of Deserting Him And Two Children Denied Alimony Or Division

William C. Tesch of Appleton was granted an absolute divorce in circuit court Thursday by Judge Edgar V. Werner from his wife Frances Jackson Tesch, who for the last three years has been making her home in Milwaukee.

Suit was brought against the woman on the ground of willful desertion, the plaintiff asserting that she had not lived with him since Jan. 3, 1918, when she went to Milwaukee leaving two small children behind. Judge Werner decreed that Mrs. Tesch is not entitled to alimony. Mr. Tesch was awarded the custody of the two children, a boy aged 8, and a girl of 5. There was no division of property.

The couple was married at Oshkosh on Feb. 8, 1912, and lived together five years.

HAD 2 STILL GOING IN ROOM IN BARN

Joseph Mathis Is Arraigned Following Raid By U. S. Officer At Kaukauna

The raid on the property of Frank Wallerstein of Kaukauna, who was convicted in municipal court Wednesday and sentenced to 30 days in the workhouse, was followed up the afternoon of the same day with a raid on the premises of Joseph Mathis, also of Kaukauna.

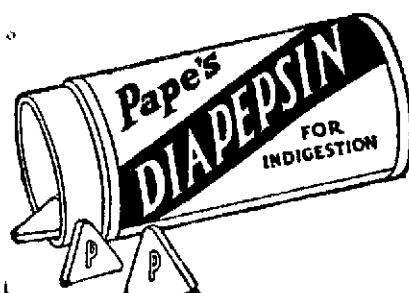

Thomas Martin, federal prohibition enforcement agent, and Chief Richard H. McCarty of the Kaukauna police force, conducted the search that resulted in a greater find than that a few hours previous. According to the charges two stills were found in operation in Mathis' barn. A room in the barn had been partitioned off for a distillery.

A still of 33 gallon capacity and one of 15 gallons were found here, together with 250 gallons of mash. Two gallons of moonshine whisky also was found in the house.

Mathis was arraigned in municipal court Friday morning and his case was adjourned until Saturday afternoon.

KIMBERLY LINES UP FOR SEAL CAMPAIGN

Badger Anti-T. B. Association Offers Clinics For Biggest Seal Sales

Helen V. Simonson has been appointed Christmas seal sale manager at Kimberly for the second time and will have the cooperation of the entire community in making a record breaking sale. The official date for the opening of the national campaign is Thanksgiving day and the work at Kimberly will be started about that time. The sale of seals will continue until Christmas.

Prize clinics again will be awarded this year by the Wisconsin Anti Tuberculosis Association and the reputation these clinics have won throughout the state for far reaching health work will make the competition unusually keen.

When the clinics were offered as prizes last year, there were comparatively few communities that knew the value of the services but with the growing knowledge and the appreciation of the service, every community will be working to bring one to their town.

Regulations governing the competition have not as yet been announced, but it will of course have to do with the towns making the biggest sale.

The remarkable decrease in Wisconsin's death rate which has been cut from 167.7 per cent 100,000 in 1908 when the first Christmas seal sale was held and the organ seal campaign it supports started, to 74.6 in 1921 is leading renewed enthusiasm to the campaign.

NEW JITNEY LAWS BEFORE LAWMAKERS

Legislators Prepare To Increase Liability Of Bus Owners

Numerous measures to regulate in many different ways the rapidly increasing jitney and bus industry of Wisconsin will be brought before the 1923 legislature, according to L. E. Gettle, railroad commissioner.

With the industry increasing as it has been, especially in interurban travel, where busses are competing seriously with railroads in many cases and with no regulation over the busses except a very small guaranty bond and the state truck license fee, many legislators already are getting material together for such enactment as will lessen the dangers and increase the liability of the owners and drivers.

In some eastern states, it is pointed out, guaranty bonds have been made so high, sometimes as high as $5,000 for each passenger that can be carried, that "wildcat" bus drivers are literally driven out of business. The Wisconsin guaranty bond is $5,000 for each vehicle.

KINDERGARTEN TEACHERS MEETING IN MILWAUKEE

Appleton kindergarten teachers have received copies of the program of the third annual luncheon and meeting of the Wisconsin Kindergarten association Friday noon at Hotel Pfister, Milwaukee, which was held in connection with the annual convention of the Wisconsin Teachers Association.

The luncheon was held in the Fern room at 12:30 and was followed by singing old time songs and by an address by Miss Julia Wade Abbot of Washington D. C. The program closed with the reports of officers and the election of new officers.

PROMISE CONCRETE ON ROAD BEYOND FREMONT

A. R. Hirst, state highway engineer, has announced that highway 18 between Fremont and Wausau will be one of the first paving projects to receive attention next year, providing the legislature makes the necessary appropriations.

Engineers of the state highway commission have completed the surveying of this stretch preparatory to the work of grading and laying concrete.

Cozy Lounging Rooms In Armory Invite Soldier When He Is Not Drilling

Inside Of City's Largest Public Building Has More Features Than Average Person Is Familiar With

Have you ever wondered when you passed by Armory G what it was good for besides public dances? Most people in Appleton know little or nothing about the building, which is one of the biggest in the city, many of them never have been in it, and some think the public would not be allowed inside anyway.

The basement is the most mysterious looking part of the building, but last summer cretonne curtains were put up at the windows, a door was placed at the east side of the outside entrance and an attractive curtain put on that. Down stairs from that door and on into the mysterious center of the building is one of the most used clubrooms in the city. It was fitted up during the summer for members of Co. D, 127th Machine Gun company.

FURNISH TWO ROOMS

There are two rooms attractively furnished for reading and card playing. The reading room has several leather chairs, a library table, a desk and telephone and that most indispensable of all equipment in company clubrooms, a player piano. Plenty of magazines and papers are furnished for the reading table and there is no lack of rolls for the piano.

Card tables and all the necessary accompaniments like decks of cards and chips are provided in the card room. It is in this room that the men do most of their smoking and a ventilator has been installed to carry the stale air out of doors. It has been rigged inside the window so that when the ventilator is not needed, the window may be closed behind it in order to keep out cold drafts.

EACH HAS KEY

Each man in Co. D has a key to the clubrooms and is permitted to use them at any time. Sometimes there are as many as 35 men in the rooms. Although the public is invited to see these rooms, they are reserved for the members of the company to use.

August Lorge, who is armorer, (the military term for janitor or caretaker) did a great deal of the painting and fixing over as soon as the dance season was over. Two things in the club rooms remind one of the dances, the fact that "Augie", as everyone calls him, did the work when the dance season was over and that ventilation is necessary in a place where so many people smoke. The air in the Armory during a dance at which there are sometimes as many as 900 people is especially good, due to the care which Mr. Lorge takes to make it so. After each dance, the place is given a thorough cleaning and airing besides a spraying. An antiseptic solution, which has a clean and soapy smell, is sprayed over all parts of the hall to kill germs and to cleanse the air so that disease is not spread.

LOCKERS UPSTAIRS

Most everyone who has been in the Armory knows the officers' office on the east side of the entrance and the "non-coms'" room on the west side and all those who go to dances have been in the gallery but few have ventured up the outer stairway. At the head of the stairs is a door leading into the gallery from the outside, which is now padlocked because some boys who were hardup took it off the hinges in order to get into a dance free of charge. A door to the right opens into the locker room of the company.

Lockers in the latter room have all the usual equipment of the machine gun soldier in spic and span shape already for use. The individual lockers contain a wool and a cotton uniform, a pair of shoes, hat, and the remainder of the official requirements in the lower section, and the field equipment in the upper section. Overcoats and slickers are kept in the quartermasters' department on the third floor with all other supplies of the company.

On drill nights, the gallery of the Armory is always open to spectators but of late, few people have availed themselves of the opportunity to watch the boys. Some of the guardsmen have said they doubted if the people knew that there was a National Guard company in Appleton because no one ever comes to the Armory.

Oats Never Cooked so quickly

Instant Quaker Oats

Cook in 3 to 5 minutes

Your grocer now has Instant Quaker Oats, as well as the style you know.

Instant Quaker, perfected by our experts, is the quickest cooking oats in the world. It cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes.

Both styles have that exquisite flavor which has won the world to Quaker. Both are flaked from queen grains only—just the rich, plump, flaky oats. In both we get but ten pounds from a bushel.

But in Instant Quaker the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And the small thin flakes cook quickly.

If you want the Instant Quaker look for "Instant" on the label. You will get the quickest cooking oat flakes ever known.

Reports On Campaign Expenditures Reach County Clerk—Some Had None

Campaign expenses are being filed by the various county, state and congressional candidates. The largest bills thus far filed are as follows: Fred V. Heinemann, secretary of the Republican county committee, $333.40; Farmer - Labor and Progressive League of Outagamie Co., $223; Henry Graess, candidate for congress, $363.52; John E. Hantschel, candidate for county clerk, $127.50.

Among other statements are those of Herman J. Kamps, candidate for county clerk, for payment to the Republican county committee, $25; A. C. Koch, candidate for register of deeds, $50; Otto Zuehlke, candidate for sheriff, $50; John A. Lonsdorf, candidate for district attorney, $25; Anton Miller, candidate for assemblyman, no expenses; Charles Schrimpf, candidate for assemblyman, none; Harry A. Shannon, candidate for clerk of court, none; Dr. H. F. Ells worth, candidate for coroner, none; Marie Ziegenhagen, candidate for treasurer, none.

INVITE CONCRETE BLOCK MAKERS TO CONFERENCE

Manufacturers of concrete blocks, architects and builders are urged by the state industrial commission to attend a conference on concrete block industry regulation to be held at Madison, Nov. 14.

The conference will consider the advisability of adopting more detailed specifications concerning the manufacture and use of concrete blocks, and will attempt to give the need of classification of concrete blocks, and will give all interested an opportunity to submit suggestions, criticisms of present regulation, and complaints, according to an announcement by the commission.

The percentage of "hollowness" of tile which is compatible with safety will be one of the leading questions under discussion. The amount of average absorption and "crushing strength" standards also will be discussed.

MAYOR CALLS ON CITIZENS TO PAY TRIBUTE TO VETS

Attend High School Pageant And Learn Americanism, Reuter Says

Mayor Henry Reuter, in a proclamation issued on Thursday called upon the people of Appleton to decorate their places of business and to rededicate themselves to the service of their country on Saturday, Nov. 11, Armistice day, as a mark of honor for Worldwar heroes. He also urged Appleton people to attend the pageant, "To arms for Liberty" which students of Appleton high school will present in Lawrence Memorial chapel at 7:15 Saturday evening. This pageant was presented Thursday for college and high school students and was of such great merit that a large number of persons requested a public showing.

The mayor's proclamation follows: The fourth anniversary of ending of the world's most destructive war will occur on Saturday, Nov. 11. Four years ago that date millions of men in the trenches in Europe and countless other millions in every section of the globe received the glad tidings that peace again had descended on a war torn earth.

"All over the nation and in many other countries November 11 will be observed as a holiday. While no public demonstration is planned in Appleton it is only fitting and just that the citizens of this city should show the men who offered their lives in the great struggle that the memory of their great sacrifice still is with them.

"Therefore, I as Mayor of Appleton, designate Saturday, Nov. 11, as a day for the good citizens of this city to show, by decorating their homes and places of business and by again dedicating themselves to the service of their country, that they have not forgotten and never will forget the heroism and sacrifice of the millions of heroes who rescued the world from war and destruction.

"I urge the citizens of our city, as many as are able, to go to Lawrence Memorial chapel Saturday evening to witness the pageant which will be presented by pupils of Appleton high school. We can learn from our children the lesson of Americanism which so many of us are forgetting. Let us all join in pledging ourselves this day to higher aspirations than merely acquiring wealth and in that way honor the men who gave up wealth and pleasures to protect us in our homes.

"Henry Reuter
"Mayor of Appleton."

50 NEW ENGINES FOR NORTHWESTERN LINE

Fifty new locomotives have just been delivered to the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company at Chicago, making a total of 100 engines added to the equipment of the road during the year. Some of the locomotives are to be used on divisions north of Chicago in Wisconsin the report says.

During the year the Northwestern has purchased approximately $2,500,000 worth of new equipment for its lines, largely in Wisconsin. Fifty engines were placed in service some time ago and with the additional fifty just delivered the company has provided for its needs in Wisconsin and the northwest.

Since the opening of the year the Northwestern has purchased and secured delivery of 3,100 box cars and flats. Fifty new steel coaches have also been added to the rolling stock of the line.

The movement for improvement and addition to rolling stock is general on part of railroad lines of the country which were assisted by a loan from the government in carrying out the plans for improvements.

SPECIAL TRAIN TO RIPPON GRID BATTLE

The Northwestern Railway Co. will run a special train to Ripon Saturday, Nov. 11, for the accommodation of those who wish to attend the Lawrence-Ripon football game.

The train will leave Appleton at 8 o'clock in the morning and will return about 7 o'clock in the evening. The rates will be a fare and one-third for the round trip.

The company's plan of running a special train to the homecoming of the state university at Madison the same day has been abandoned because of lack of support.

LESS MEAT IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Troubles You

No man or woman who eats too much meat can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Excess meat eating may develop uric acid, which excites the kidneys; they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood; then we get sick-Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer causes irritation, thus often ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink, which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complications.

CHURCH TO HOLD BUDGET SUNDAY TO RECEIVE PLEDGES

Congregational Members Will Make Annual Subscriptions Next Sunday

Budget Sunday, which proved highly successful on its first trial a year ago as a means of obtaining weekly pledges toward current expenses, will be conducted by the First Congregation church again this year among its 1,400 members, with the date set for next Sunday, Nov. 12.

The idea is a reversal of the every-member canvass plan, giving the people the privilege of making a voluntary pledge instead of being approached by solicitors. It is found that this reduces the money-raising task to a simple one.

Every member has been notified through the monthly publication, "Our Church," to go to the church between the hours of 2 and 8 o'clock to make his pledge. Six booths have been arranged with an alphabetical grouping plan, and a member of the finance committee will be in charge of each, ready to confer with the pledgor and receive his subscription. The afternoon and evening also are devoted to an informal social gathering.

Approximately $20,000 is included in the budget of current expenses for the year beginning Jan. 1, 1923, including an appropriation of $3,500 for missions. Each person in the family is asked to make a weekly pledge, whether for 1 cent of $100.

Lawrence Alive With Activity As Ripon Tilt Nears; Parade Tonight

Victory Saturday Will Cinch State Flag, College Men Assert—"Scouts Invade Appleton"

Lawrence college was alive with activity Friday as final preparations were in motion for the game Saturday with Ripon college at Ripon. Coaches put special stress on the finishing touches of the grid machine while students planned "pep" meetings.

Lawrence is particularly anxious to win Saturday. Victory will mean clear title to the Little Five state intercollegiate title for the third year.

NUMBER OF GAMES DECIDE

By virtue of the number of games played by Lawrence this season Beloit will be unable to claim the title even though should the Gold Jockey pigskin chasers beat Sundt's team at Rockford later. Beloit has but three Little Five games on its schedule this season—Lawrence, Northwestern and Ripon. Beloit won from Northwestern 44 to 0 and was held to a scoreless tie by Lawrence. In comparison, Lawrence has Northwestern 45 to 0 and Carroll 13 to 0. A victory over Ripon would give McChesney's men the state flag while a defeat would leave the Ripon-Beloit game the deciding game.

By Lawrence regulars will play their last game in the Little Five conference in Saturday's contest. They are Captain "Punk" McGinnis, all state tackle a year ago, "Bill" Smith, all state center for two successive years, Raging one of the greatest fullbacks in Little Five history, Blackburne, all state tackle; Hunting, guard for four years; and Doring, one of the greatest ends in Lawrence history and perhaps the best dropkicker in the Little Five to day.

EXPECT 3 TOUCHDOWNS
While Ripon is regarded as one of the best defensive teams in the state, Lawrence followers believe that the Blue and White will win by at least three touchdowns.

Ripon played only one team that Lawrence has played this year. In the Carroll game last Saturday Ripon won by a score of 13 to 7, while Coach McChesney's team took the Waterloo gridders in camp to the tune of 13 to 0 and Lawrence has improved since its clash with Carroll. Of course, Ripon looks at the situation from a different light. Coach Guy Sundt and his assistants spent an arduous week in getting their men ready for the tilt and with the homecoming slogan "Eliminate Lawrence," Riponers expect to win not only from Lawrence but take the game from Beloit also.

SCOUTS IN CITY

Coach McChesney and Buck sent the Lawrence squad through a strenuous drill Thursday. Scrimmage was under the utmost secrecy as Ripon scouts penetrated Appleton to get a line on the plan of activities. These same Riponers were reported in the city seeking any loose change that supporters of the Appleton college team were willing to put up.

Coach McChesney will take all his players on the "Ripon Special" which will leave the Northwestern station at 4 o'clock Saturday morning.

Following practice Thursday night the footballers attended a meeting at the student chapel. Another conference was held Friday morning.

Lawrence students planned a demonstration and parade for Friday evening. The school band was to head the marchers. The musicians will journey along with the football squad.

PLAN MASS MEETING

Following the parade a campus mass meeting was scheduled for 7:30 with the players attending.

The Lawrence lineup was practically decided upon Friday with the exception of the backfield. Coach McChesney was undecided just whom he will use at the half back positions. Lawrence will start with the following lineup: "Bill" Smith, center; Hunting and Kiesling, guards; McGinnis and Blackburne, tackles; Stoll and Berry, ends; Kotal, quarterback; Curry, fullback. The half back candidates are Holmer, Basing, Goan, Geover and Ruhlmann.

TWIN CITIES EXCITED OVER BOXING MATCHES

Marquette—Menominee and Marquette fight fans are all agog over the Legion bouts set for Friday evening of this week in the Marquette armory with Bill Emke, the Minneapolis phenom, and Eddie Mullane, the Milwaukee battler, featuring in the big ten-round windup. Four of the snappiest bouts that ever have been seen in Marquette will be held at the Armory on Friday.

In Mullane and Emke the twin city fight fans will have an opportunity to see two men in action who are contenders for Harry Greb's crown as the middleweight champion of the world. Emke is a challenger of Harry Greb and it is understood that these two fighters will engage in the championship bout next month.

In Big Ten Ball Scandal

TACKLE "JAB" MURRY, COACH RICHARDS.

"We won't sit back like kittens and permit him to be ruled out," he says. Murry declares he is innocent of professionalism. Taylorville is his home town, and he admits having played with the Taylorville team, but he was at that time not enrolled in any university and he did not receive money for playing according to his story.

TWO GREAT SCRAPS FEATURE BIG TEN GAMES SATURDAY

Illinois-Wisconsin And Ohio-Chicago Battles Attract Attention

Chicago, Ill.—University of Chicago football rosters with the 100 piece University band and the freshmen grid squad will leave on special trains for Columbus to cheer the Maroons in Saturday's game with Ohio state.

Coach Stagg and the varsity left Thursday night. A few substitutes were left behind to follow on one of the roster specials.

The Maroons were in good shape for the contest. Otto Stroehmer was Stagg's substitute for quarterback and with Pyott will do the punting for the Maroons.

The Chicago-Ohio state game is expected to be one of the most stubbornly fought battles in the big ten Saturday, but the Wisconsin-Illinois game at Madison is attracting more attention perhaps than the others because of the intense feeling between the colleges since their row over professionalism.

Wisconsin, too, is one of the undefeated leaders in the championship race with Chicago, Iowa and Michigan. To beat Wisconsin is Bob Zupp's greatest wish of the season now that championship prospects have gone, and according to most critics the Badgers must turn back the Illinois Saturday to remain among the most serious contenders for the title.

Iowa plays Minnesota at Iowa City and Purdue meets Northwestern at Evanston.

Indiana goes outside the Big Ten for another battle, engaging West Virginia at Indianapolis.

Michigan, looking forward to Wisconsin game next week, remains idle Saturday.

DECORATE MADISON FOR ILLINOIS GAME

Madison, Wis.—Both the all-American and freshmen teams were called into scrimmage against the Badger varsity team Wednesday afternoon.

Both teams used Illinois plays, but contrary to the scrimmages earlier in the week, the varsity more than held its own.

Thursday afternoon will see the last scrimmage for the Badgers before the Illinois homecoming contest on Saturday, and the Wisconsin team, barring the loss of Harris at right half, is in excellent physical condition.

MADISON DRESSED UP
The work of two months in laying out the plans to decorate and entertain in honor of the Badger homecoming is now culminating. Camp Randall will be decorated as never before. The cardinal and white of Wisconsin and the orange and blue of Illinois will form a background for the banners of all the conference schools which will fly from the poles on the east side of the field.

RIPON FIGURES BREAKS WILL WIN ANNUAL CLASSIC

Coach Sundt Believes He Has Strongest Defensive Team In Country

Ripon, Wis.—Coach Guy Sundt and his Ripon college team finishing an intensive week of practice last night in preparation for its big championship game with Lawrence Saturday at Ripon. Ripon will have to win from Lawrence to stay in the state collegiate title which has now narrowed down to a three-cornered affair between Beloit, Lawrence and Ripon. If Ripon defeats Lawrence the state championship will be settled at Rockford, Nov. 25.

MIGHTY DEFENSE
With one of the strongest defensive college eleven in the country, Coach Sundt will this week bend most of his efforts on improving his offense, which has not been up to the required standard so far this year.

The defensive caliber of the Ripon team is attested to by the fact that the Crimson and White goal line has been crossed just twice this season.

Ellison, Carroll college quarterback, crossed it for the second time in the Ripon-Carroll game Saturday after a 50 yard run. Ripon, however, won the game 12 to 7.

BEATEN BY LOMBARD
The only other team to cross Ripon's goal this season was Lombard, which administered a 6 to 0 defeat to the Badgers at Galesburg early in the season. The caliber of the Lombard eleven, which has not been defeated in two years, however, was shown by its 6 to 6 tie game last Saturday with Detroit university.

BREAK WILL WIN
When Ripon and Lawrence meet Saturday it will be a question of irresistible and immovable forces coming together and waiting for something to happen. Lawrence, with an eleven that has not been defeated in the last two years only by Wisconsin, and with a line averaging 190 pounds and Ripon with a defense that is rated just as high should furnish a great encounter. The ultimate victor, according to the dope, will be the one who gets the break. Ripon is confident she can stop Grignon and Basing, Lawrence's 180-pound bonecrushing backs, and is depending largely on Schneider, veteran end, to bring victory via the aerial route.

MARQUETTE WILL FACE HEAVY TEAM SATURDAY

Milwaukee—According to the reports of scouts, Marquette will face a North Dakota eleven at Athletic park on Saturday fully 50 per cent stronger than the team of Flickertails which lost a heart breaking game to the Hilltopps here last season by a score of 7 to 3.

Reports on the strength of the visitors who have nine of last year's men back, was anything but encouraging to Coach Murray.

The Flickertails this season have one of the biggest and strongest lines in the history of the school. From end to end, the line averages close to 150 pounds and was only scored against by Minnesota early in the season. The backfield is not far behind the forward wall in weight, averaging around 175 pounds.

FOND DU LAC HAS BASKETBALL TEAMS

Fond du Lac—This city will have two professional basketball teams in the field this winter. In addition to the Cardinals, there will be the Fondy Maroons representing this city on the caging courts of the state.

The Maroons are all home town boys and include several all state high school stars and members of championship quintets. The club is under the management of James M. O'Leary and includes such stars as Jake Gerhard, William McKinley, Jimmy Harbridge, Red Lehman, Bill Watson, Decker and Parker.

E. L. Sherman, former University of Wisconsin track athlete, has been signed to coach the Maroons and the boys have been under stiff training the past four weeks. They will open their season on Friday evening, Nov. 17, when they will tackle the strong Mathewson team at Sheboygan.

FORESTERS PLAN TEN PIN SEASON

Appleton's bowling army will be increased by 30 men this month, with the entry of six teams by the Catholic Order of Foresters. Announcement was made by Joseph Schweitzer that a meeting of members of last year's teams and new members will be held in the next few days to draw up plans for the year.

The C. O. F. teams will bowl on the Elk alleys. A schedule and the members of the teams will be announced at the coming meeting. Chairman Schweitzer said that he desired all members who wish to enter the league to call him at once so that he may be able to complete arrangements. All those desiring to get on the teams are urged to telephone 999.

BELOIT IMPROVES FOR RIPON GAME

Mills Expects Lake Forest To Give Him Toughest Scrap Of Year

Beloit — Strenuous scrimmage indulged in by Beloit college varsity candidates last night in preparation for the Lake Forest game here Saturday—the last home game for Coach Mills' athletes—brought out words of praise from Coach Mills and Osgood for about the first time this year. "They looked pretty good last night."

Beloit—George "Swede" Dahlgren, 23 year old Beloit guard, will be used for the last time in the Lake Forest game Saturday. Dahlgren is ineligible for state conference games, having played his four years in the state, and can't be used against Ripon. Dahlgren played against Knox two weeks ago, and this week will be his last appearance in a Beloit college suit.

Mills said today, "I rather imagine we'll play better ball in our next two games."

College critics who have seen Ripon in action many times, and who also have seen Lake Forest play, assert that Lake Forest is a lot more of a team than Ripon. "The game Saturday is going to be harder for us to win than the Ripon game at Rockford two weeks later," asserted

Will Ripon do to Lawrence Tommy was asked. "I don't know anything about what they've done this year," Mills said. "I'm a lot more worried about than I am about Ripon."

SIKI'S LIFE STORY

By BATTILING SIKI
As Told to Milton Bronner, NEA Staff Correspondent
CHAPTER FIVE—Dutch Romance and Fights.

In 1920, life played another queer trick on me. It was a German dancer who took me from Senegal to France, and so to the war and the boxing ring.

It was a French boxing teacher who took me from Paris to Rotterdam. This led to marriage with a Dutch woman, battles in Holland and Germany and finally, a chance at the big men in Europe.

Professor Mionnet, a French boxing instructor, had heard of men in Paris and gave me beat Derezny. He was called to Rotterdam to instruct Dutch youths. Also, he got up boxing contests. He thought I would be useful, as the Dutch are willing to pay to see fights.

I got board with the Van Appelter family. Dutch farmer folks who came to town to live. He was a wine dealer in a small way. They were nice to me and did not charge a large sum.

MARRIES DUTCH GIRL

That's how I met my future wife—their daughter, Lyntje. I don't suppose her parents were anxious for her marrying me. But I found she cared for me as I cared for her, and we skipped over to Paris and were married by a magistrate.

We've got a baby that we named Louis. He is neither black like me nor white like his mamma. He's cafe au-lait—coffee with milk in it. I don't know whether to make Louis a fighter but if he has a punch later like he has lungs now he will be a champion.

The Dutch have been very good to me. They have been as friendly as the French. I have fought a lot of fights in Holland and the crowd always seems glad I won.

DUTCH FETE HIM

They consider I belong to them since I married a Dutch girl. When I won my fight with Carpenter, lots of Dutch sent me messages. After the fight, to get away from Paris and rest, I came to Rotterdam.

There was a big crowd at the station to cheer me. Afterward some of the sport lovers gave a big dinner for me. They had a procession. They had me in a carriage drawn by four horses and drove me all over the city like a regular Negro king and people threw flowers into the carriage and cheered.

"Hurrah for France and Siki!" they cried.

After I had won a lot of fights in

SIKI'S FAMOUS CROUCH

Holland I went to Germany. In January 1921, I beat Breitenstrater on points in 15 rounds. A month later, I beat Spalla.

I wasn't sure how I'd be treated in Germany. They remembered what fighters the Senegalese were, and there are a lot of colored troops with the French on the Rhine now. But I can't kick. They gave me a square deal. I couldn't ask better of a French or Dutch crowd.

And by the way, that's why I would prefer to meet your big American boxers over here. I understand American crowds are not friendly to colored boxers. I don't want the best of it, but I don't want to box before a crowd which would be yelling at me and showing they didn't like me.

GIBBONS EAGER TO MEET JOE BECKETT

Offers To Take Place Of Battling Siki, Banned By British

Chicago—Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul lightweight, through his manager Eddie Kane has asked for a chance to take the place of Battling Siki against Joe Beckett, English heavyweight.

When the British home office drew the color line and refused to permit the Senegalese fighter to meet Beckett or any other white man in the United Kingdom, Kane cabled Major Wilson, promoter of the proposed match, asking him to substitute Gibbons for Siki.

The Siki-Beckett match was scheduled for Dec. 7 in London and was barred at the same time the French boxing commission suspended Siki for nine months and took away his crown as light heavyweight champion because of his conduct at the Prunier-Balzac fight, when he struck Prunier's manager.

Kane announced he had been negotiating for some time with English promoters for three fights for Gibbons in London.

WEBER'S DROP STITCH 5 MEET HILBERT BOWLERS

Weber's Drop Stitch Five, which beat Zohn's Ups and Downs at Hilbert Wednesday night, are scheduled to meet the Hilbert quintet in a return match game on St. Joseph's alleys Sunday night. In the Wednesday night game the Appleton bowlers beat the Hilbert unit three straight and by a total of 312 pins. The Webers rolled 2,562 pins. John Weber, Walter Stevens, Alvin Dame, Henry Otto and Joseph Schweitzer compose the Weber's Drop Stitch Five. The team plans to go after the scalp of other quintets in the city.

HILL-FREBERG BOUT POSTPONED

George Hill, heavyweight wrestler, received word on Thursday that his bout with John Freberg scheduled for Friday night at Rockford, Ill., has been postponed until either Nov. 16 or 17. Hill was ready to start for the Illinois city when he received word of the change in date.

Freberg showed a lot of class when he defeated Karl Schultz here Tuesday night. He is a big, fast, clever wrestler who looks as if he can make the best in the country step out to beat him.

SPORT VIEWS AND NEWS

What's wrong with the country? Just one thing we see. We need a golfing champion Who's never been a caddy.

He broke out with a fever. Wishing he could die. An outcast in the face of man—His golf ball teed too high.

Psychology plays its part in football like any other sport.

In the east a lot of people think the natives of the west are still wild. Coach Howard Jones of Iowa must have figured a number of the young men of the Yale eleven were of that opinion.

When the Iowa team came on the field at Yale they were swathed in blankets and wore huge headgear.

When it came time to start practice they removed the blankets, peeled off their huge sweaters and walked around the field in a strange, serpentine formation, stretching their arms and legs and grunting lustily as they did so.

Before Yale could realize it, Iowa had scored a touchdown and sewed up the game.

The first impression counts in sport and Iowa certainly gave Yale something to think about as the western team made its entrance.

When Chuck Palmer of Northwestern ran 102 yards after recovering a fumble in the game with Minnesota, the claim was advanced that he had tied a football record of long standing. It was an error.

The football records credit McCaa of Lafayette and Boynton of Williams with runs of 110 yards.

McCaa made his run again Swarthmore in 1909, while Boynton performed his against Hamilton in 1920.

Palmer's run enabled Northwestern to get a 7 to 7 tie with Minnesota, the first upset of the year in western football.

Centre versus Washington and Lee. That game is already attracting much attention in the south.

The meeting of these two great teams will be staged at Louisville, Ky., on Nov. 11.

Centre, by its great showing against Harvard, is conceded to have another wonder team.

Three times in the first period, largely because the breaks favored the Crimson, Centre came back and outplayed Harvard the rest of the game.

Washington and Lee showed its strength in the game with West Virginia by holding that team to a 12 to 12 tie. West Virginia had previously defeated Pittsburgh, 9 to 6, the first time such a feat had been accomplished in 20 years by a West Virginia team.

While some clubs are rated strong, it looks as if Centre should have a slight edge.

The longest drop kick of the season is to the credit of O'Hearn of Yale, who scored in that manner from the 52-yard line. As yet no player has run the length of the field from a kick off in any of the bigger college games.

Nov. 18 is a gala day for the football fan. Some of the best cards of the year are scheduled for a decision on the afternoon of that day.

Prominent among the games scheduled for Nov. 18 is the Princeton-Yale clash. Harvard meets Brown, Michigan takes on Wisconsin, Ohio State plays Iowa. Chicago is scheduled with Illinois. Pennsylvania plays Penn State, and so on.

WE FISHING AND HUNTING COLUMN

By M. J. V. Fose

There are plenty of ducks on the famed up-river marshes but they are wary, according to hunters' statements recently.

It is extremely exasperating, hunters aver, to see flocks of hundreds winging their silent way overhead just out of range of the fowling piece. Evidence that the feathered game is becoming educated is seen in their habits. The birds quit their night-time haunts in the marshes before daylight and do not return from the water until late at night. This makes it more difficult for hunters to keep their gun barrels warm and the waits between shots are long.

Frog hunting has got it all over duck hunting so far as results are concerned in this locality just now. As a result frog legs are more or less plentiful on the local market. They are also being sold in large quantities to chefs on dining cars, and some fishermen are finding lucrative employment in keeping those in the market supplied. Frogs at this time of year are easy to catch. They have crawled under flat rocks along the lake shore and fall easy prey.

The aims of the Izaak Walton League of America are such that every outdoor lover should belong and help in the work of conservation. When an organization is working for better fishing, better ideals of sportsmanship, and the conservation of all wild life, it certainly merits support of every one who loves the feel of a trout on a line, the smell of a camp fire, and the great outdoors.

Perhaps one reason why this organization is growing so rapidly aside from its worthy motives is that you and I—and thousands of other nature lovers—are waking up to the fact that what we need and love—wild life—is getting scarcer. The sweep of civilization is taking our forest, the elk are almost gone, the same is true of the antelope, and streams have been polluted until there is no more fishing in many localities.

The biological survey estimates that there are 5,000,000 hunters in the United States and no one knows how many millions of fishermen bird fans, and other outdoor lovers.

To keep enough wild places, maintain good fishing, conserve birds and mammals, so that this army of men and women can enjoy the outdoors is the problem the states, the federal government, and sportsmen's clubs are studying today. And the Izaak Walton League offers all a method of working together for good sport and reasonable conservation.

GREEN BAY PACKERS FACE FORMIDABLE FOE

Minneapolis, Minn. — The Marine football team that battles the Green Bay Packers at Green Bay Sunday afternoon has made a great record in the American Professional football league and has become a feared team by every contender in the race.

Here's what the Minneapolis team has done this year:

Held Paddy Driscoll's Chicago Cardinals to a 3 to 0 score. Beat the Evansville Tigers 48 to 0. Defeated Jim Thorpe's Osage Indians of Marion, O., 13 to 6. Nosed out a win over the Duluth K. C.'s 3 to 0.

The Marines have a wonderful young professional star in the making in young Martin Norton, who only last year was a high school player. He was the big star of the Marine victory over the Osage Sunday.

In addition to being a good ground gainer, he is a good tackler and a dandy kicker and interference man. He's only 19 years old and playing his first year of professional football.

SELIG AND LIETHEN WIN MATCH POOL GAME

Playing before a large audience, the team of Alvin Selig and Henry Liethen defeated Lester Drexler and Albert LaFond, last year's champions, 100 to 64 in the straight pool game Thursday night at the Carr and Hansen Billiard hall. The Selig-Liethen victory was another case of "spilling the dope." Liethen shot an exceptionally good game and led with a run of 14. The game was neck in neck at the beginning. A return match will be held next week.

Getting Rid of a Stubborn Cough's Childs Play Now

Make the Medicine Yourself At Home It's Cheap—But You Can't Beat It

If you want to take care of that bad, hang on cough and do it in a few hours, better get one ounce of Parment (double strength) and mix a half pint at home.

You can do this in two minutes by adding a little sugar and enough water to fill a half pint bottle.

You'll travel the world over before you get a medicine that will act so surely and quickly on the mucous membrane of the nose and throat. It halts the inflammation, the tickling sensation steps with the first spoonful, the heavy breathing goes and clean membrane, free from irritation and mucus follows.

For Catarrhal conditions such as mucus droppings, clogged nostrils and watery eyes, it won't disappoint—ask for Parment (double strength). Speak plainly so that the druggist will know exactly what you want. adv.

Dinner and then Coffee at the Congress

Food of the best, skillfully prepared into tempting, delicious dishes served amidst the most pleasing surroundings—that's the Congress. Everyone knows of the Congress in Chicago. Everyone knows that to dine there is to dine well, but that no dinner is quite complete without a cup of that delicious excellent coffee.

Thousands of guests have gone to their homes and raved about that coffee—the coffee that made a perfect finish to a perfect dinner.

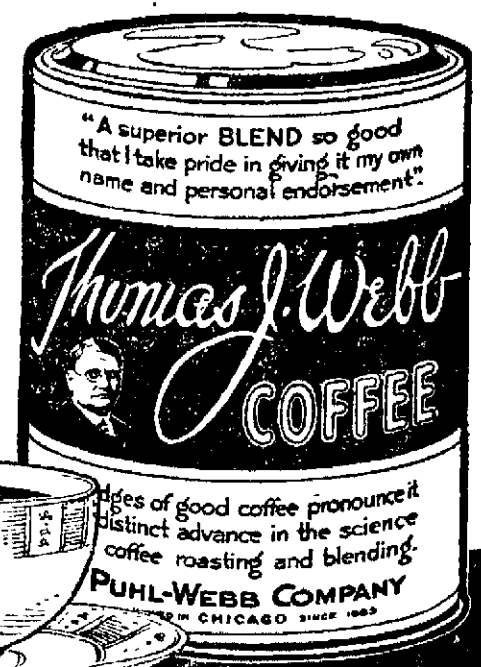

And it was Thomas J. Webb Coffee, of course.

You may have this same good coffee in your home—just get it from your grocer. You pay no more for it than for ordinary coffee. In fact, it is an economical coffee, for you get more cups to the pound. Try it!

PUHL-WEBB COMPANY
CHICAGO - MILWAUKEE

An original "live-flame" roasting process seals all the flavor in the bean. An air-tight metal container maintains the original flavor and freshness of the coffee, so that all the exquisite full flavor goes into your cup.

Thomas J. Webb Coffee may be had ground or in the bean. The ground is especially recommended, because of uniformity in just the right size, and all the chaff is removed.

You will always find everything in our market just as we say it is. If you ask for a tender steak, you will receive it, if you should want lean meat, if you want something with a little more fat, we have it.

CHAPTER III

About that time, a mile and a half to the southward, James Darragh came out on the rocky and rushing outlet of Star Pond.

Over his shoulder was a rifle, and all around him ran dogs—big, powerful dogs, built like foxhounds but with the rough, wiry coats of Airedales, even rougher of ear and features.

He had been seated there for ten minutes, possibly, with his tired dogs lying around him, when just above him he saw a State Trooper emerge from the woods on foot, carrying a rifle over one shoulder.

"Jack!" he called in a guarded voice.

Trooper Stormont turned, caught sight of Darragh, made a signal of recognition, and came toward him.

Darragh said: "Your mate, Trooper Lannis, is down stream. I've two of my own game warrens at the cross-roads, two more on the Great Lake Road, and two foresters and an inspector out toward Owl March."

Stormont nodded, looking down at the dogs.

"What are they, Jim?"

"Otter-hounds," said Darragh, "—a breed of my own. . . . But that's all they are capable of hunting, I guess," he added grimly.

Stormont's gaze questioned him.

"Well," said Darragh, "I left my two guests at Harrod Place to amuse each other, got out three couple of my otter-hounds and started them—as I hoped and supposed—on Quintana's trail."

"What happened?" inquired Stormont curiously.

"Well—I don't know. I think they were following some of Quintana's gang—for a while, anyway. After that, God knows—deer, hare, cotton-tail—I don't know. They yelled their hilly heads off—I on the run—they're slow dogs, you know—and whatever they were after either fooled them or there were too many trails. . . . I made a mistake, that's all. These poor beasts don't know anything except an otter. I just hoped they might take Quintana's trail if I put them on it."

They had been walking for twenty minutes, possibly, exchanging scarcely a word, and they were now nearing the hilly basin where Star Pond lay, when Darragh said abruptly:

"I'm going to tell you about things, Jack. You've taken my word so far that it's all right."

"Naturally," said Stormont simply.

The two men, who had been brother officers in the Great War, glanced at each other, slightly smiling.

"Here it is, then," said Darragh. "When I was on duty in Riga for the Intelligence Department, I met two ladies in dire distress, whose mansion had been burned and looted, supposedly by the Bolsheviks. . . . They were actually hungry and penniless; the only clothing they possessed they were wearing. These ladies were the Countess Orloff-Strelwitz, and a young girl, Theodorica, Grand Duchess of Esthonia. . . . I did what I could for them. After a while, I found out that the crime had been perpetrated by Jose Quintana's gang of international crooks masquerading as Bolsheviks. Stormont nodded: "I also came across similar cases," he remarked.

"Well, this was a flagrant example. Quintana had burnt the chateau and had made off with over two million dollars worth of the little Grand Duchess's jewels—among them the famous Erosite gem known as 'The Flaming Jewel.'"

"I've heard of it."

"I've been after him ever since. . . . But, Jack, until this morning Quintana did not possess these stolen jewels. Clinch did!"

"What?"

"Clinch served overseas in a Forestry Regiment. In Paris he robbed Quintana of these jewels. That's why I've been hanging around Clinch."

Stormont's face was flushed and incredulous. Then it lost color as he thought of the jewels that Eve had concealed—the gems for which she had risked her life.

He said: "But you tell me Quintana robbed you this morning."

"He did. The little Grand Duchess and the Countess Orloff-Strelwitz are my guests at Harrod Place."

"Last night I snatched the case containing these gems from Quintana's fingers. This morning, as I offered them to the Grand Duchess, Quintana coolly stepped between us."

His voice became bitter and his features reddened with rage poorly controlled:

"By God, Jack, I should have shot Quintana when the opportunity offered. Twice I've had the chance. The next time I shall kill him any way I can. . . . Legitimately."

"Of course," said Stormont grave-

ly. But his mind was full of the jewels which Eve had. What and whose were they—if Quintana again had the Esthonian gems in his possession?

A few minutes later, as they came out among the willows and alders on the northeast side of Star Pond, Stormont touched his comrade's arm.

"Look at that enormous dog-otter out here in the lake!"

And now the hounds, unleashed, lifted frantic voices. The very sky seemed full of the discordant tumult; wood and shore reverberated with the volume of convulsive and dissonant baying.

"Damn it," said Darragh, disgusted. "—that's what they've been trailing all the while across-woods—that devilish dog-otter yonder. And I had hoped they were on Quintana's trail!"

A mass rush and scurry of crazed dogs nearly swept him off his feet, and both men caught a glimpse of a large bitch-otter taking to the lake from a ledge of rock just beyond.

"Well, I'm in for it now," muttered Darragh, starting along the bank toward Clinch's Dump, to keep an eye on his dogs.

Stormont followed more leisurely.

CHAPTER IV

A few minutes before Darragh and Stormont had come out on the farther edge of Star Pond, Sard, who had heard from Quintana about the big drain pipe which led from Clinch's pantry into the lake decided to go in and take a look at it.

He had been told all about its uses—how Clinch—in the event of a raid by State Troopers or Government enforcement agents—could empty his contraband hootch into the lake if necessary—and even barrel of ale or a keg of rum, intact, into the great ale tunnel and recover the liquor at his leisure.

Also, and grimly, Quintana had admitted that through this drain Eve Strayer and the State Trooper, Stormont, had escaped from Clinch's Dump.

So now Sard, full of curiosity, went back into the pantry to look at it for himself.

Almost instantly the idea occurred to him to make use of the drain for his own safety and comfort.

Why shouldn't he sleep in the pantry, lock the door, and in case of intrusion—other exits being unavailable—why shouldn't he feel entirely safe with such an avenue of escape open?

For swimming was Sard's single accomplishment. He wasn't afraid of water; he simply couldn't sink. Swimming was the only sport he ever had indulged in. He adored it.

And at that instant the very heavens echoed with that awful tumult which had first paralyzed, then crazed him in the woods.

In the bushes on the lake shore he saw animals leaping and racing, but in his terror, he did not recognize them for dogs.

Then suddenly, he saw a man, close to the house, running; and another man not far behind. That he understood, and it electrified him into action.

It was too late to escape from the house now. He understood that instantly.

He ran back through the dance-hall and dining-room to the pantry; but he dared not let these intruders hear the noise of hammering.

Unrecoverable terror seized Sard. Scarcely aware what he was about, he seized the edges of the big drain-pipe and crowded his obese body into it head first. He was so fat and heavy that he filled the tile. To start himself down he pulled with both hands and kicked himself forward, tortoise-like down the slanting tunnel, sticking now and then, dragging himself on and downward.

There came a hitch somewhere; his heavy body stuck on the steep incline.

Then, as he lifted his bewildered head and strove to peer into the blackness in front, he saw four balls of green fire close to him in darkness.

He began to slide at the same instant, and flung out both hands to check himself. But his palms slid in the slime and his body slid after.

He shrieked once as his face struck a furry obstruction where four balls of green fire flamed horribly and a fury of murderous teeth tore his face and throat to bloody tatters as he slid lower, lower, settling through crimson-dyed waters into the icy depths of Star Pond.

Stormont, down by the lake, called to Darragh, who appeared on the veranda:

"Oh, Jim! Both otters crawled into the drain! I think your dogs must have killed one of them under water. There's a big patch of blood spreading off shore."

Best Battery for Winter Use

COLD weather driving makes heavier demands upon any storage battery. Engines are stiff—oil is sluggish—gasoline vaporizes slowly—lights burn longer—and the severe cold tends to cause battery deterioration. Only a battery of maximum power and vitality can meet these demands.

The Prest-O-Lite Storage Battery has proven in the toughest of cold weather tests, to be by far the best battery for winter use.

Why be satisfied with anything short of the best? There's a Prest-O-Lite for every car.

Recent Wedding Of Former Kaiser Recalls Match Of 40 Years Ago

Emperor And Princess Augusta Continued Union For Many Years Despite Predictions Of A Divorce

By Associated Press

The Hague—Gossip has it that the marriage of former Emperor William of Germany and Princess Hermine of Reuss augurs a far more wise and workable union than that between William and his first wife, Princess Augusta Victoria, which took place in February, 1881 and terminated just 40 years and 2 months later when she died an exile from her beloved Prussia.

There are many who are able to see much in common between the emperor and his new bride, despite the difference in their ages; while back in 1881, when the whole German empire was in festive attire to celebrate the marriage of its heir apparent, even the most optimistic were compelled to admit that the two royal spouses could not have been farther apart had they been of different worlds.

KAISERIN WAS SHY

Princess Augusta was shy, distrustful, essentially feminine, a lover of her home, and with no sympathy for pomp and ceremony. For more than 12 years of her married life she was a semi-invalid.

The bridegroom, on the other hand, was already feverishly active and possessed of insatiable ambition. He loved display and never tired of arraying himself in gaudy uniforms, and was happy only when he could play a leading part before the world. These were the differences that the world at large saw. Those who were intimate with either or both of the principals, however, knew that the private order of their lives was even further from agreement.

In matters pertaining to love and marriage, Prince William had his own ideas, which he lived up to with all most noisy scrupulousness. He believed first and always that a man, whether he be excited or not, should choose his wife as she would her gown—for qualities that would wear well. Intellectual strength or brilliancy, emotional vigor, and pronounced character were not among the qualities he looked for in a wife.

Fortunately, it was many years after her married life began before Princess Augusta had any important roles to perform, thus she managed to continue with her simple habits without provoking unfriendly comment. She had no experience with court life and knew little if anything about cities, therefore it was years before she mastered the details of her royal social status.

PAYS AUGUSTA COMPLIMENT

Yet with all their disparity of temperments, those who had predicted an unhappy union for the crown prince were forced, as the years wore on, to admit that their judgment had played them false. Never were there any well founded rumors of a separation, or even of disagreement. The political wisecracks, who usually are able to assign a reason for all royal utterances or actions, were hopelessly at sea when one day William issued a statement characterizing Empress Augusta as "a precious pearl; the type of all the virtues of a German princess. To her I owe it that I am able to tackle and perform in a grateful spirit the difficult duties of my position."

HAITI EXPECTS BUMPER COFFEE CROP THIS YEAR

Average Price Is 9 Cents A Pound To Peasants—Berries Grow Wild

By Associated Press

St. Marc, Haiti—There are indications in plenty here that the coffee crop which is now being picked and shipped will be the largest exported from Haiti in all her history. St. Marc is the center of the coffee growing country, and already the roads and trails are pouring in a flood of the aromatic berries that find such high favor in western Europe. Since the export tax on coffee produces a little more than one-third of the government's entire revenue, and the coffee exports average two-thirds of all Haiti's export trade, the importance of this record breaking crop is appreciated.

At the peak of the French regime in Haiti a crop of 74,000,000 pounds was exported to Europe in 1791. Thirty years later it had dwindled to 20,000,000 pounds as a result of neglect and the incessant civil wars following Haiti's independence in 1803. Under Haitian rule it finally climbed in 1880 to 73,000,000 pounds but the production was again at low ebb when the United States intervened in 1915. Three years later, when American troops had restored order in the island, it reached a total of 80,000,000 pounds, of $15,500,000 declared value, and that year the crop paid 40 per cent at Haiti's entire revenue.

9 CENTS A POUND

The present crop, however, is destined to exceed all previous French Haitian and American occupation figures, and the average price to the peasant will be 9 cents a pound. Practically all of the coffee goes to Havre for distribution through France, Belgium, Holland, Germany and Austria, where it is used in small lots as a grading coffee.

It is worthy of note that practically not a dollar of the millions that the new crop will bring to Haiti will go into the pocket of a single American, for the coffee industry in Haiti is wholly in the hands of Haitians, a few French, and a small number of men of mixed blood.

GROW IN WILD STATE

There is not a single cultivated plantation in Haiti. The berries grow wild from the old French days, requiring no irrigation and receiving practically no care. Coffee experts hold that through the indolence and ignorance of the peasants, fully one-half of the average crop is not picked. With attention to shading and pruning, and with reasonable diligence, the coffee crop is considered very good indeed.

FATHER ASKS U. S. SENATOR TO HELP RECOVER FAMILY

Idaho Man Cannot See Justice Of State In Taking Children Away

Special To Post-Crescent
Bonners Ferry, Ida.—Albert C. Sundsmo, 50-year-old carpenter, of this town, is fighting to have state authorities return his wife and five children to him.

"They were taken from me because I had too many children," he says sadly. "Why else, I do not know."

By an order from Judge E. B. Henderson of Boundary County, they were taken to the home of the feeble-minded at Nampa, Ida.

"And," says Sundsmo, "the only way I can have my family back is by submitting to an operation which would forestall the birth of any more children."

"Sundsmo is perplexed. He cannot understand the justice of this enforced separation. So he has appealed to Senator Borah of Idaho for help, and has instituted suit in the district court for the return of his family."

WED EIGHT YEARS
"Some eight years ago," explains Sundsmo, "I married Anna. From the time of our marriage we have been happy and contented. She is a kind and loving woman and though she may not be called an intelligent reader, nor talented in any way, I have always thought her a very practical woman, full of common sense."

In these eight years, Mrs. Sundsmo gave birth to seven children. Two died.

"Up to now we had no trouble," continues Sundsmo. "Suddenly she was taken, with the five children, and committed to an asylum."

"The trouble was this, five children, two of them only babies, were too much for my wife to keep scrupulously clean at all times. My wife sometimes the house was not as clean as it might have been. My wife had more work than she could do."

"Someone reported the case. Then the sheriff came one Sunday morning and took away my wife and children."

INVESTIGATORS REPORT
"When the judge read the court order to me," I stated two doctors had come before him and said that our home had been found in an unsanitary condition, that our oldest boy was not as bright as he should be and, therefore, we might have more children mentally below normal."

But Sundsmo cannot understand why his wife and all his youngsters were taken from him. The other children, he argues, have not been declared subnormal.

"It all seems so horribly unjust," cries Sundsmo. "I feel that my wife and I have been greatly wronged. But I have not the means to get a hearing in the courts."

Sundsmo is convinced that neither he nor his wife are mentally deficient.

Fame Spreads

The fame of the standardized road marking of the Wisconsin highways has traveled beyond the confines of this continent and reached island of Hawaii. A copy of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin of Oct. 7 just received by Secretary E. A. Cannon of the Good Roads Association of Wisconsin has a double column article on Wisconsin's road marking, headed "Wisconsin Leads the Way When It Comes to Marking Highways and Detours."

The article in question refers to the Wisconsin methods as a new "Wisconsin idea" and goes on to praise the efficiency of the system and the highway officials of Wisconsin who devised it. It describes the marking in detail and recommends Hawaii adopt the Wisconsin idea not only of road marking but of guiding travelers over detours.

Last year England adopted the numbered marking system of Wisconsin and its fame now seems to have traveled in another direction and reached the far flung islands of the Pacific.

Short Pompador Replaces Bobbed Locks In London

London.—The flapper type of young girl is rapidly disappearing in London. The first signs of waning popularity is the discarding of bobbed hair.

According to West End hairdressers shortened locks are no longer approved, and the coming winter season will see new styles in the art of hair dressing. The most popular substitute for bobbed hair is a short pompador, and the use of a small ribbon or wreath. This is the favorite style of Princess Mary.

The reversion in hair dressing has even gone to the extent that small amounts of false hair will be used this winter.

The new color for fall hats is "green almond," and veils will be worn extensively. The small hat with a veil fastened across the front which was popular during the war, is to be worn again. The hats will be smaller this fall, but huge shapes, rivaling the "Merry widows" of years ago, will be the rage in the spring.

The new evening dresses in the Regent windows are entirely minus a back, and a cord of white silk has taken the place of a wider shoulder strap. The materials in vogue are dark shades and purple, and heavy silks and satins will be almost the only for the entry of the old as well as the will again grace the ball-rooms, and three distinct trains are not too much for one gown. Rich oriental brocades and bejeweled ornaments are to be seen on all of the gowns.

STEAMER VALLEY QUEEN IS BURNED IN OSHKOSH

The passenger steamer Valley Queen, which made frequent excursion trips on the Fox river and Lake Winnebago, was destroyed by fire at the Wisconsin bridge in Oshkosh Thursday night. The vessel was burned to the edge of the water and is a total loss.

It is believed that boys or tramps in the boat started the fire. It had been tied up for the winter.

UNANIMITY RULE HAMPERS WORK OF NATIONS' LEAGUE

Propose Amendment To Covenant To Permit Action Outside Of Committees

By Associated Press

Geneva, Switzerland.—Several influential delegates to the Third Assembly of the League of Nations are going home with the conviction that the rules of the next Assembly ought to be changed so as to make the proceedings more parliamentary, more like the debates in the American Congress, for instance. They hold that the unanimity rule, which thus far has applied to deliberations of committees as well as to those of the full Assembly, is choking out interest and that, unless this rule is abolished, the proceedings will become duller and duller as the work of the Assembly becomes more and more confined to routine questions. The regulations can be abolished for committee work by the Assembly itself, but an amendment to the covenant is necessary to do away with unanimity in decisions of the full Assembly.

"The committees, under the unanimity rule," said one delegate, "are made to look like machines for the production of compromises, while the Assembly proceedings run into an anticlimax in the closing work of the session, because all important questions have been decided unanimously in committee. There is nothing for the full session to do but approve. It can debate over again the points that were contested in committee, but under the unanimity rule it can change nothing. The Assembly rules ought to encourage minority reports on questions that are contested in committee, giving opportunity for final debate in the Assembly."

The unanimity rule has thus far resulted in a compromise on nearly every important question before the Assembly. Sometimes there are double compromises, first in committee and then in the Assembly. What some delegates criticize most in the rule is that it sometimes gives an air of insincerity to the decisions. For instance, in the debate on the resolution in favor of mutual guarantee of security, several orators spoke against the proposition while others said their countries could not accept it, nevertheless the vote for the resolution was unanimous.

SHIPBUILDING IN BRITAIN DECLINES

Lloyds Report Serious Shrinkage In New Tonnage Under Construction

By Associated Press

London.—Lloyds Register of shipbuilding returns for the quarter ended in September, 1922, show that merchant tonnage under construction in the United Kingdom on Sept. 30 amounted to 1,617,045 tons. This represents a reduction of about 302,000 tons as compared with the total at the end of the previous quarter.

The total, however, includes a considerable amount of tonnage (419,000 tons) on which work has been suspended for some time. Deducting this amount for purposes of comparison with figures for normal times, the merchant tonnage actually under construction in the United Kingdom amounted to 1,198,000 tons.

The average tonnage under construction during the twelve months immediately preceding the war was 1,890,000, 682,000 tons more than the present figures.

The total merchant tonnage now building abroad amounts to 1,085,511 tons, but includes about 256,000 tons upon which work has been suspended, leaving about 829,000 tons actually under construction.

The tonnage building abroad is about 230,000 tons lower than the total building at the end of June last, the figures for the leading countries are: Italy, 210,114 tons; France, 197,065 tons; Holland, 177,024 tons; United States, 147,056 tons; and Japan 96,847 tons. These figures do not take into account the tonnage building in Germany and at Dantzig, for which no returns are available, but it is estimated that the tonnage under construction in Germany at the present time is about 350,000 tons and at Dantzig 40,000 tons.

Germany and at Dantzig, for which no returns are available, but it is estimated that the tonnage under construction in Germany at the present time is about 350,000 tons and at Dantzig 40,000 tons.
